Power Failure Leaves Hamilton Dark, Chilly

Repairs Require 12 Hours

The main underground cable feeding electricity into Hamilton Air Force Base short-circuited yesterday afternoon and left the huge military complex without power for almost 12 hours. Auxiliary power units automatically cut in and the base's military mission was not affected—but everything else on the base was. Families sat in their candle-lit quarters, shivering, because central heating was inoperative. Gas cookers provided the only heat.

KIDNEY PLEA HEADED

Marin Volunteers Throng To Help Dying Teen-Ager

By PAT PERRY
'It makes a fellow—I don't know—sort of take more hope in the human race...'
Herman Frank of San Rafael was happy and hopeful and amazed today. Yesterday, through the Independent-Journal, he appealed to someone to donate a kidney to transplant to his dying 17-year-old son. Within eight hours, seven eligible Marin residents offered to donate a kidney. Even more offered, said Frank, but they weren't of the required B-positive blood type. 'I was flabbergasted,' said Frank today. 'The first call came at 4 p.m. and the phone didn't stop ringing till 11 p.m. Lots of people just called to encourage me and wish a Merry Christmas.'

Ohio Boy Given Kidney Of Girl Traffic Victim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—In a dramatic, four-hour operation, two surgical teams today transplanted a kidney from a girl who died five minutes earlier into the body of a teenage boy. Doctors at Children's Hospital were optimistic that the boy, Alvin Alltop, 17, East Liberty, Ohio, would survive. Two teams of three surgeons each began the delicate double surgery five minutes after Nancy Hancock, 9, of rural Pickaway County, died in the hospital from massive head injuries suffered when she was struck by a car. While a team headed by Dr. J.P. Smith began removing the kidney, the other team, headed by Dr. Thomas S. Morse, started surgery on Alltop. 'Right now, things look very encouraging,' Dr. Morse said. 'A little boy who was dying 24 hours ago, now has a functioning kidney.'

Probation Granted In Bell Theft

Three University of the Pacific students, who said they have been 'depugged' from their fraternity and barred from campus social activities, today were placed on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court for taking two historic bells from Mission San Rafael. Judge Hadden W. Roth, in his first day on the bench, also ordered that the three—Walter H. Jensen, Steven J. Wechsler, and John D. Mills, all 20—pay for any damages. He added: 'I will not impose a fine or jail term, but I will say it was a silly, stupid thing to do.'

Hungarian Act Boycotts Kosygin

IZMIR, Turkey (UPI)—Alexei Kosygin, the first Soviet premier to visit Turkey as a tourist, arrived in Izmir today and faced another hostile reminder of Russia's role in crushing the Hungarian revolt 10 years ago. A group of Hungarian refugee entertainers appearing at a hotel in this Aegean Sea port said they refused to play at a dinner to be given there tonight for Kosygin by Izmir Governor Namik Kemal Senturk. Other refugees threw Hungarian flags at Kosygin's car when he arrived in Turkey Tuesday.

U.S. Troops In Pre-Truce Alert; Destroyer Hit By Red Artillery

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON (UPI)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland alerted American troops today that the Communists may launch a major offensive just before the Christmas truce goes into effect at 7 a.m. Saturday (3 p.m. PST today).

To forestall such an offensive he dispatched B-52 bombers on one of their rare flights to North Vietnam to bomb suspected troop concentrations just north of the demilitarized zone (DMZ). South of the zone U.S. Marines tracked down Red forces in a three-day operation that has killed 175 Communists.

U.S. 7th Fleet ships bombarded coastal positions along the Communist supply route in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam and a spokesman reported the destroyer O'Brien suffered light casualties when hit by a shore battery—the first time an American ship received a direct hit in such an operation. Other ships aided by planes then worked over the shore batteries.

The Christmas cease-fire is to last 48 hours. Westmoreland warned that the Communists might launch their long expected offensive since American troops would be powerless to retaliate during the truce period.

A Viet Cong detachment battled Saigon police for almost two hours tonight on southwestern outskirts about two and one-half miles from the heart of the capital, then broke contact and withdrew. Police sources said the action was limited to an exchange of small-arms fire and grenades. There was no report of casualties on either side.

General Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, today predicted 'more of the same—heavy fighting' for American troops and their allies in Vietnam next year.

'We cannot expect in the future any dramatic turn of events. It will take perseverance, endurance on the battlefield and patient patience at home,' Westmoreland said. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky declared in a 'state of the nation' address that the danger of a Communist takeover has passed and the Vietnamese army's primary task now will be to pacify the countryside. 'Our armed forces will keep military security in the country and also take the initiative' against the enemy, he said. Ky addressed the Constituent Assembly which is writing a constitution restoring the country to civilian rule. He offered no startling new proposals but at one point indicated he would oppose any third-party peace negotiations thrust on South Vietnam.

U.S. Sending Jordan Planes, Equipment To Check Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is rushing military equipment to Jordan in an apparent attempt to maintain a balance of power in the crisis-torn Middle East.

The State Department announced last night the equipment included an undisclosed number of F-104 jet fighters—bombers Jordan previously agreed to purchase, but it did not spell out the other kinds or amount of assistance the United States is providing 'to strengthen the defensive capability of the Jordanian armed forces.'

The announcement came shortly after the Jordanian government radio in Amman announced the resignation of the government of Premier Wasfi Tell. The department said the timing of the announcement of arms aid and the resignation of Tell's government was nothing more than a coincidence.

Tell's 22-month-old government has been under fire both in Jordan and in other Arab countries since a Nov. 13 Israeli attack on the Jordanian village of El Samu. Its opponents demanded strong retaliatory action against the Israelis.

Shortly before the U.S. announcement, Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said in Tel Aviv his country had 'new, most important sources for weapons.' The sources were not identified.

Although Eshkol reiterated in principle Israel's desire to respect existing frontiers, he said his nation was reserving its right of freedom of action in the crisis.

This was an apparent reference to the recent decision of the Arab Defense Council to move non-Jordanian troops to Jordan's border with Israel.

The Washington announcement produced an Israeli threat today to buy still more arms. A spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry said that his government was 'thoroughly examining the significance' of the U.S.-Jordan deal and 'if it should become evident that the supplies of weapons to Jordan will upset the balance in the area, the Israeli government will upset the balance in the area, the Israeli government will take immediate action to restore it.'

The U.N. Security Council censured Israel for the Nov. 13 attack. Israel said it acted in

Brown Will Miss Reagan's Rites

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown won't be on hand when Ronald Reagan is sworn in as California's 33rd governor one minute after midnight Jan. 2.

Brown said he had discussed the possibility of his attendance with Reagan and suggested the governor-elect would be more 'comfortable' if Brown were not present to hear the inaugural address.

Brown said Reagan agreed. The outgoing governor made the revelation while taking with newsmen before filming a television program.

Police Arrest Bar Patron In Gun Waving

A 27-year-old Mill Valley man was booked early today at county jail for allegedly threatening to shoot a bartender who stopped serving him drinks.

William Franklin Knight, 216 Miller Avenue, was arrested by two Mill Valley police officers and three sheriff's deputies at 2:30 a.m. as he lay sleeping on a cot on the balcony of his second-floor apartment—with his hand resting on a loaded .45-caliber revolver.

Knight was covered with a blanket when the officers found him, and the revolver was not discovered until Mill Valley Patrolman Douglas J. Stone removed the blanket. Stone gently took away the weapon. Then the officers aroused Knight.

Knight struggled with the officers, police said, but was quickly subdued. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon at the 2 A.M. Club, Miller and Montford avenues.

An unidentified motorist stopped Patrolman Stone at 1:27 a.m. to report that a man at the bar was waving a gun at the bartender. As Stone and officer Robert L. Sisk arrived, they saw a man, who turned out to be Knight, drive away from the bar. Registration and record checks in Sacramento and San Francisco turned up Knight's name and address within a half hour.

The bartender, James W. Westbrook, 45, of 292 Miller Avenue, identified Knight as the gun waver after his arrest, police said.

Knight had been drinking in the bar for about an hour, Westbrook told police, when told he would not be served another drink.

Knight then pulled a gun from under his belt and ordered the bartender to serve everyone a drink, Westbrook said.

When he served Knight a drink, Knight replaced his gun, but when Westbrook moved to ward a back room to telephone police, Knight again pulled the gun and cocked the hammer. 'Would you like to meet a dead man?' he asked. Then, said Westbrook, Knight said the gun toward him butt first, but when the bartender reached for it, Knight put the gun back under his belt.

Knight left a few minutes later, just before police arrived. Stone and Sisk were assisted in the arrest by sheriff's deputies Raymond Von Savote and Leonard Thrall and Sheriff's Sgt. Edward Levine.

STAFF IDLED

Military and civilian workers were sent home when the power failed at 2 p.m., for electric typewriters, computers and all other electrically operated machines came to a sudden halt.

The commissary, crammed with customers buying Christmas provisions, plunged into gloom and cash registers wouldn't operate. However, a portable generator was later installed so the shoppers could check out their purchases and the frozen food lockers and cases could resume operation.

Z. B. Melcon, district electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., said the main underground cable that feeds power from PG&E's substation on the base to the main switching station 'shorted out and burned in two.'

Base engineer's crews dug up the cable, and PG&E rushed in 130 feet of the large high voltage cable. Working under portable lights, the Air Force engineers, augmented by 10 PG&E men, installed the new cable and had power restored by 1:15 today.

Melcon said there was no specific reason for the 4,000-volt cable's failure. 'These underground cables do sometimes fail,' he commented.

Two Christmas parties on base went ahead as planned. The airman's party, sponsored by the base and the Novato Rotary Club, was held in Hanger 7, where the generator for auxiliary power is housed. The party was reported successful, if a trifle noisy with the generator humming all the time.

The non-commissioned officers party at the NCO Club was held by candlelight.

All food on the base is cooked by gas, and airmen were served in candle-lit mess halls.

Hamilton information officers reported the defense function of the base was not affected. Auxiliary power units fed power for the runway, base operations, the tower, the 78th Fighter Wing, the North American Air Defense Command Center, and the base hospital.

As dusk fell, loudspeaker announcements warned the hundreds of families living on the base the power cut might last 24 hours. Residents were told to use their gas cookers for heating and warned to conserve water as power was out at the water pumping station.

At 1:15 a.m. today, however, lights flashed back on again.

Mansfield Fears Escalation Into War For Thailand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield sees in troubled Thailand the seeds of another Vietnam-style war.

The early ingredients of the Vietnam war are there, he said. American troops are being sent to help cope with rebel forces, he added, and, as was once the case in Vietnam, they are cast as advisers, not combatants.

"We could very well have in prospect another Vietnam," Mansfield said in an interview yesterday. "Our policy in Thailand seems to be treading the same path."

And in Vietnam itself: "I look for a long, drawn-out struggle," Mansfield said. U.S. efforts at peace have produced "no progress toward a just settlement" and the danger of expanded conflict has increased in the past year.

He saw a flicker of hope and a step in the right direction in the U.S. request that UN Secretary-General U Thant seek a Vietnam cease-fire.

"In a sense, it is a controlled, limited war," said the pensive, pipe-smoking Senate leader. "But it's a war which could get out of hand through miscalculation or accident."

"The war has escalated gradually, the dangers have increased," Mansfield said in a year-end assessment of the situation he analyzed 12 months ago as head of a Senate fact-finding team.

In a report published last Jan. 8, the Mansfield team warned that the war could engulf adjacent Laos, move into Cambodia and erupt, too, in Thailand.

Now, Mansfield said, the United States has 35,000 to 37,000 men in Thailand, "a very decided increase over the situation a year ago." He said Americans are ferrying troops by air to northeast Thailand to cope with insurgents there.

Mansfield said the Johnson administration has dealt carefully with Cambodia "and seems to be aware of the fact that Prince Norodom Sihanouk's policy is, if at all possible, to keep Cambodia for the Cambodians and apart from the struggle."

In Laos, Mansfield said, a year has brought little change. The country is still divided, he said, despite the theoretical, three-way coalition government.

Pondering steps to keep the Vietnam war in bounds, Mansfield said it might be possible to seal off the demilitarized zone between the South and the Communist North, and carry this line across Laos to Thailand, to choke off Communist infiltration.

Mansfield acknowledged there was little hope that the holiday truces in Vietnam would be extended through mid-February, as he has proposed.

But another influential Senate Democrat, Richard B. Russell of Georgia, said the cease-fires during Christmas and New Year's are mistakes.

"They will give the enemy, who is not disorganized and beaten, a chance to regroup and replenish his equipment and ammunition," Russell said yesterday in an interview in Winder, Ga. He added that he believes the Viet Cong would not have suggested the truces "if they did not expect to benefit from them militarily."

Mansfield said he does not share the view of those who hold that attrition of Communist forces eventually will end the war.

"It is my belief that it will have to end at the conference table in a political settlement," Mansfield said.

He said that is true despite U.S. military successes, and despite the fact that "the other side cannot win."

"We have proven conclusively our military superiority, and a cease-fire and stand-fast would find us in a strong position militarily," Mansfield said.

He said the conflict is becoming "more and more of an American war, less and less of a Vietnamese war."

Even now, he said, there is talk of U.S. troop commitments in the Mekong Delta, a Communist stronghold. Mansfield said that would require "a decided increase in U.S. troops."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Louis Lomax To Visit Hanoi

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Louis Lomax, with the blessing of the U.S. State Department, will leave tomorrow for Hanoi to interview North Vietnamese president Ho Chi Minh.

The Negro author and television personality flew to Washington, D.C., last night for a briefing "by the very highest State Department officials." These would include Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lomax said.

Lomax said he had received a telegram from Hanoi approving a two week visit. He said he was instructed first to go to Cambodia, where he would be contacted and flown to North Vietnam.

The 44-year-old author of "The Negro Revolt" was to return here late today and then fly on tomorrow to the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh via Tokyo and Thailand.

"The North Vietnamese Journalistic Assn. has arranged the trip and obtained permission for me to interview Ho Chi Minh and Pham Bang Dong, North Vietnam's premier," Lomax said.

Ike Faces Holiday In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will spend Christmas in the hospital, spokesmen say.

The general hoped to be out of Walter Reed Army Hospital and back to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm by Christmas following his Dec. 12 gall bladder operation.

But instead he'll be kept for what the hospital called a "few more days" of "further adjustment of medication and observation." The hospital quoted the Army surgeon general, Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, yesterday as saying Eisenhower's progress "has been excellent and that from a surgical standpoint he has been released."

The hospital did not specify when he would be released. Eisenhower plans to go to Palm Desert, Calif., in early January.

Ex-McCarthy Aide Beats Charge

ST. THOMAS, V.I. (AP)—Two detectives arrested New York lawyer Roy Cohn and a companion for walking downtown wearing only swimming trunks, but the detectives wound up facing charges in court.

Cohn, the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's aide, and Paul Laurenz were charged yesterday with "obscene and indecent conduct." A charge of "indecent language" was added after Laurenz got into a dispute with detectives David Canton and Godfrey Richards.

Cohn and Laurenz appeared promptly for a hearing, but the detectives were late. Judge Cyril Michael had dismissed the charges against Cohn and Laurenz and ordered the detectives cited for contempt of court.

The officers pleaded that they had been delayed while investigating another case. The judge said the court case took precedence.

Senate Taking Close Look At Chinese Steel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators are taking a close look at charges that U.S. military contractors have purchased supplies for their Vietnam operations from Hong Kong firms controlled by Communist China.

The inquiry could lead to public hearings after Congress reconvenes Jan. 10.

FOLLOW UP

In any event, a spokesman said Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, will follow it up, either personally or through his Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures.

That panel has produced during the past nine months a series of questions about Red Chinese goods and U.S. military contractors.

The latest inquiry was produced by an account in the Sunday London Observer, which reported the United States bought $1 million worth of steel from Red China for construction of bases in Vietnam.

The Pentagon said Monday it had no information to substantiate that story, and no indication that any U.S. government procurement had come from Red China.

PROBE ASKED

Joseph Lippman, the subcommittee's staff director, said his investigators asked the Pentagon Wednesday to fully investigate the Observer account.

Meanwhile, American sources in Singapore conceded that slips can occur in U.S. precautions designed to make sure there are no purchases of Red Chinese goods.

"I think we may be looking at just the top of the iceberg here," Lippman said in an interview.

Ailing Auto Firm Denies Merger Hint

DETROIT (AP)—Rumors persisted today that American Motors Corp., which has had problems in the auto sales market, might be in the market for a merger.

The name most frequently mentioned was Litton Industries, Inc., of Beverly Hills, a widely diversified electronics firm.

AMC's top two men said "no comment" yesterday when asked about the Litton rumors. Today, AMC President Roy Abernethy said, "The reports have no more status than as a rumor. There is nothing to them."

There was no immediate comment from Litton officials.

The rumors popped up within hours after AMC released copies of its annual report showing that the firm had used up all but $4 million of a $75-million loan it negotiated with 24 banks.

The loans are secured by a mortgage on nearly all American Motors U.S. property and a pledge of the stock of its wholly owned subsidiaries.

Emporium Boss Will Step Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Frederic S. Hirschler, board chairman of the Emporium-Capwell Co., announced yesterday he would retire Jan. 31 as chief executive after 42 years service with the firm.

The Emporium is Northern California's largest department store operation.

Hirschler will remain as a member of the board of directors.

President Arden R. Batchelder will take over as chief executive officer.

Hirschler joined the Emporium as a stock boy in 1925.

Second, Third Apollo Flight Crews Selected

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Frank Borman will be command pilots for two of the most exciting Apollo training missions that will precede America's first landing on the moon.

Air Force Lt. Col. McDivitt and David R. Scott and Russell L. Schweickart, a civilian, were selected yesterday as the prime crew of the second Apollo flight, which will include first tests in module.

THIRD TEAM

Three Air Force men, Col. Borman, Lt. Col. Michael Collins and Capt. William A. Anders were named to man the third Apollo mission. They will be the first astronauts to be blasted into space by Saturn 5, the mighty rocket developed for the moon landing program.

Both missions are scheduled in 1967 and will follow the first Apollo flight, set for late February or March. Its crew will be Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

The McDivitt-Scott-Schweickart mission, which could last up to 12 days, will be the second in an Apollo series that this country hopes will lead to a manned moonflight by the end of a decade.

Plans call for a dual launch: The three pilots will blast into space in an Apollo moonship a day before an unmanned lunar excursion module is hurled skyward.

Red Hierarchy Deaths Reported

TOKYO (UPI)—A Japanese newspaper reported today that three ousted members of the Chinese Communist hierarchy, including a former army chief of staff once considered a possible successor to Mao Tse-tung, have committed suicide.

The men were victims of the current purge sweeping China. But it was not clear whether they were driven to their deaths by the rampaging Red Guards supporting the purge.

The Peking correspondent of the Japanese paper Yomiuri Shimbun identified the men as Lo Jui Ching, a former army chief of staff, Lu Ting Ye, a former propaganda chief, and Yang Shang Kun, a former standing Communist committee-man.

East Berlin Quiet

BERLIN (AP)—The absence of thousands of West Berliners has taken much of the Christmas bustle out of East Berlin this year. For the first time since 1963, the divided city faces the prospect of no Communist passes allowing West Berliners to visit East Berlin relatives during the holidays.

Look Sending Aide To Solve German Issue

NEW YORK (AP) — An official Look magazine, Joseph F. Cugas, syndicate manager, said today he plans to go to West Germany to try to dissuade the magazine Stern from publishing the original version of Look's serialization of the book, "The Death of a President."

It also was announced that Mrs. John F. Kennedy, one of the principals in the book controversy, and her children, Caroline and John Jr., would leave Monday for a vacation in Antigua in the British West Indies. They plan to return Jan. 5.

Mrs. Kennedy's planned departure is one day before a scheduled hearing on her court suit against William Manchester, author of the book, and Harper and Row, the publishers, seeking to block publication of the book in its present form.

Mrs. Kennedy reached an out-of-court settlement with Look Wednesday night after the magazine agreed to make requested deletions and modifications of passages she considered too personal. Sections of the serialization reportedly unfavorable to President Johnson will remain. The four-part Look series begins in the issue of Jan. 10.

Negotiations are continuing with Harper and Row in an effort to reach a similar agreement. The publishing firm plans to issue the 300,000-word book next April.

HOLIDAY LUCK Seven Entombed Firemen Freed

NEW YORK (UPI) — Seven firemen were entombed under tons of debris in the collapse of a blazing four-story Manhattan building but "with a little bit of Christmas luck" the last of them was rescued today.

The seven firemen were clustered on the right side of the ground floor when the upper three stories gave way last night and fiery ceilings, floors, walls, furniture and fixtures fell around them. The rubble fell to the left forming a lean-to that protected the men from the heaviest debris and searing flames, Fire Commissioner Robert Lowery said.

It took 3-1/2 hours to reach the last man. Rescuers moved cautiously, fearful that if the wrong timer were removed, tons of debris would tumble down and bury the trapped firemen deeper.

All seven firefighters were members of the third division, which lost a dozen men Oct. 18 in the collapse of a building in Madison Square, about two miles away.

Fellow firemen dug gingerly with their hands through the rubble for the men, the horror of the October tragedy fresh in their minds. They were buoyed by constant voice contact with the trapped firemen.

Working under spotlights with a steady stream of water playing on the flames still burning in the room, the rescuers clawed their way to the men, one by one. A mighty cheer arose from hundreds of spectators and firemen when Harry Fay, the last of the seven, staggered out of the building early today. All were taken by ambulance to Bellevue Hospital, none seriously hurt.

Ruby May Get Wish For Polygraph Test

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Chris Cugas, a polygraph expert, and Cleve Baxter of New York said today they had been asked by Jack Ruby's physician to give him a lie detector test and had agreed if "Ruby is physically able to take one."

Ruby, reportedly dying from inoperable cancer at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex., has asked that such test be given to prove to the world that "I acted alone—not as a part of a conspiracy"—in slaying Lee Harvey Oswald.

Cugas said he had wired Texas Atty. Gen. Wagner Carr asking his permission to give the polygraph examination.

"We are prepared to give Ruby the test as soon as we are cleared by Carr," Cugas said.

Carr said yesterday that Ruby should be given the lie detector test as soon as possible to let him prove his contention that there was no conspiracy.

"Having represented Texas before the Warren Commission, I agree with the finding that Ruby was acting alone," Carr said. "However, his request for a lie detector test should be granted so that the record on President Kennedy's assassination may contain Ruby's statement."

Cugas said, "If Ruby is in good physical condition we will be able to determine with reasonable accuracy the truthfulness of his statement that he was acting alone in shooting Oswald."

The polygraph examiner admitted that a lie detector examination is not "100 per cent accurate" but said that if Ruby is in good physical condition the test would show if he acted alone.

Ousted Army Chief Arrested

TOKYO (AP)—Militant Red Guards in Communist China have arrested Lo Jui-ching, former army chief of staff, and five others, a Japanese report from Peking said today.

Asahi's Peking correspondent said among others identified on Red Guards wall posters in Peking were Liang Piayeh and Hsiao Hsiang-jung, generals in the army before ranks were abolished.

All three at one time or another served under Defense Minister Lin Piao, party Chairman Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent.

HE WAS NOT AFRAID—Jesus defied his day's big organizations when he felt there was a need. He is shown in this picture driving the moneychangers out of the temple.

THE FACES OF JESUS

He Was Not Afraid To Upset The Day's Entrenched Order

Fourth in a series.
By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

The scene churned with commerce. It had become the nation's biggest profit-making establishment, so much so that the Roman overlords would continue it even after they razed the Jerusalem Temple and replaced it with a shrine to the pagan god Jupiter.

On frequent pilgrimages there, Jesus had watched in dismay the growing economic desecration of the great sanctuary, the bartering, the animal pens, coin exchanges, the collection of head taxes from every male citizen over 19.

Today, He would not take it any longer without challenging it.

His hands worked at some leather thongs, of the kind used by cattle drovers, twisting them into a stout braided cord. If He held back, "the very stones would cry out."

He upset the entrenched order. He dared the system. He broke traditional laws. He disturbed the dominant classes. He was a rebel. And He was not afraid.

His early instructions deploying his men carried an ominous urgency. "Take nothing for your journey, no staff, nor bag, nor money." Not even a change of garment.

Informers of Rome's puppet,

Herod Antipas, were assigned to watch Him. When friendly Pharisees warned Him to "get away from here, for Herod wants to kill you," Jesus retorted: "Tell that fox . . . I finish my course."

Guardians of established religious custom also trailed Him, reporting his violations.

When He restored a stone-mason's atrophied hand on the Sabbath, they accused Him of breaking the law. Its rigid interpretations forbade any treatment unless life was endangered. But He countered:

"The tree is known by its fruits." He seemed to tower over them. "It is lawful to do good on the Sabbath."

It also inflamed critics that He offered sovereign forgiveness to sinners. "This man is blaspheming!"

He was assailed for failing to practice the ceremonial hand-washing at meals. He could have pointed out that many other Jews—the common masses—ignored the custom, but He shunned such evasive tactics.

"Hear and understand, not what goes into the mouth defiles a man. But what comes out of the mouth . . . from the heart . . . evil thoughts . . . adultery, false witness, slander. These are what defile a man."

Over and over, He defied the prevailing codes, the social custom. "You have heard it said . . . but I tell you . . ." And He would rip into the external properties, stressing motive and purpose over form.

Yet He insisted this was not the destruction of law, but its fulfilling.

People puzzled. "What is this? A new teaching? We never saw anything like this . . . Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

Repeated warning was brought to Him by His disciples, but He disregarded it. Relatives fearing for Him, tried to deter Him. He knew what the outcome would be and tried to prepare His Apostles.

At length came that moment in the Temple court, as he looked over the gross teaming traffic, the posted sentries, the clanging utensils of wine sellers—the constant toll on the poor that upheld the whole oppressive system.

Jesus, coming on the tumultuous sight that day, realizing the grinding drain on the impoverished masses, the exploitation of the devout, struck by the profaning of the temple into an economic appendage, the noise and reek of sheep and fowls, the barring of strangers from inner praying chambers, His conscience flamed in protest.

Inexorably, He moved across the wide court, overturning the coin conversion tables, blocking the freight carts, driving out the money dealers and animal vendors, seizing the place by storm.

"Is it not written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer for all nations'?" He cried. "But you have made it a den of robbers." He thundered quotations from the Prophets Isaiah and Jeremiah, the very height of His indignation overwhelming the entire area.

For a time, He dominated the area, Mark's gospel states, refusing to allow commercial dealers to traverse it. But He couldn't have stayed there long.

And He knew the ultimate consequences. If He had confined Himself only to preaching, He might never have been hurt. But He was a reformer, a rebel. He acted openly against the vested interests of the day.

"I lay down my life . . ." He said. "No one takes it from Me." It was a deadly conflict, when right throws itself bodily against the bastions of privilege and power, and it costs. But He had the nerve for it.

Spies and leather-shirted ruffians, dispatched by the Sadducean cohorts of Rome, kept up a running harassment, as the days wore on.

New Assistant In Coroner's Office Named

A Belvedere police officer with a background in criminology and military intelligence has been selected for assistant coroner by Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county coroner-elect.

The appointment of Patrolman Eugene R. Fontaine to succeed Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley on Jan. 1 is subject to approval by the board of supervisors.

Fontaine, 31, has been a member of the Belvedere police force since 1963, except for a six-month leave in 1964. He has also served as an identification technician with the Oakland Police Department and with the State Department of Corrections at San Quentin, where he was supervisor of the identification department.

He served for four years in the Air Force's repartment of intelligence and was based in Japan and Formosa. He received a letter of commendation from the Republic of China while serving as an advisor to the Nationalist Air Force. His other awards include an award of merit from Gov. Edmund G. Brown for performance of duty at San Quentin, and the California Correctional Officers Assn. Achievement Award.

While a student of criminalistics at City College of San Francisco, where he received his degree of associate in arts, he was presented an "outstanding service award" for his contributions to the community.

Fontaine is married and lives at 1830 Vistazo West, Tiburon.

Foundations And Tighter Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department says it will ask Congress again next year for more stringent controls over tax-exempt private foundations.

A spokesman said yesterday the department still considers as its policy a report on foundations it submitted to Congress in 1965. The report urges tighter restrictions on foundations to prevent their assets from being diverted to uses other than those for which they were set up.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., calling for legislation to tighten laws concerning foundations, has said that 575 tax-exempt private foundations took in $4.6 billion but distributed only $2.2 billion over a four-year period.

Addition To School Is Rejected

San Rafael Board of Education last night rejected all bids for construction of a two-story, six-classroom addition at Coleman School because they were well above the estimate.

The board received 11 bids ranging from $183,087 to $218,400, as compared to the estimate by architect Richard C. Marshall of $156,000.

Marshall said he could change specifications to bring the cost down, and the board agreed to seek new bids, which will be opened at 11 a. m. Jan. 10.

Low bidder was Ira W. Co-burn of San Rafael.

Board members Anita C. Strom and Walter R. Castro Jr. were absent.

Pope Plans To Convene Bishop Synod

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI announced today that the new synod of bishops from around the world to help him govern the Roman Catholic Church will open its first session Sept. 29 in Rome.

The Pope announced also that two new Vatican agencies—one for Catholic laity and the other to study problems of poverty in developing nations—had been established.

The Pope made his announcements at his annual pre-Christmas reception for members of the College of Cardinals in Rome.

He told them the synod's first session would run from Sept. 29 to Oct. 24 "and further if necessary."

The synod and the new agencies were recommended by the Vatican Ecumenical Council that ended a year ago this month.

TIJUANA, Mex. (AP)—Plans have been announced for an international exposition near the beach in Tijuana which backers hope will attract 15 million visitors a year.

Clearing Seen French Try No-Wheel, Rocket-Boosted Train

By RODNEY ANGOVE

Showers fell in Marin today, but the Weather Bureau predicted the skies would clear gradually for the Christmas weekend.

There will be some overcast and fog along the coast, however, according to the forecast.

Rain began this morning in Novato and moved south through the county. But forecasters said it would stop later in the day, yielding to partly cloudy skies tonight and tomorrow.

Fair weather should follow Sunday and hold through Wednesday. Temperatures in the mid 50s were predicted for the weekend.

There was little prospect for new snow in the Sierra, but most resorts reported good skiing conditions.

TV, Stereo Taken

Theft of a television set and portable stereo phonograph from the home of Penny Waite and Sally Goodwin at 501 Litho Street, Sausalito, was reported today by police. Florine Pollard, housekeeper for the two school teachers, both away during the holiday, discovered the theft early today.

PARIS (AP)—French engineers put a rocket on the tail of their air-cushion railroad car today and whoosh!

The aerotrain is a half-size prototype of a passenger vehicle whose makers hope to cash in on the urban and interurban congestion expected to build up to a peak about 1975 or 1980.

On a concrete platform straddling a knee-high flame down the middle, the aluminum car clips along on a layer of high-pressure air. There are no wheels or rollers, except for emergency. The air cushion also insulates the vehicle from the concrete flange.

Normally the car, about the size of a long panel truck, reaches only about 118 to 125 miles an hour with two small engines to supply the cushion and an aircraft engine driving a propeller from a pod over the rear end.

But the builder, inventor-promoter Jean Bertin, has a government contract to experiment with speeds up to 250 miles an hour. It would have cost too much to rebuild the car with bigger engines, he explained, hence the five-foot solid-fuel rocket which protrudes from the rear like a stinger.

In a demonstration for newsmen, test engineer Maurice Lefranti, 35, donned his crash helmet and eased away smoothly down the test track south of Paris. At 118 miles an hour he triggered the rocket, and a cloud of white smoke thundered out over the soft green countryside.

Lefranti said the additional thrust felt like a gentle push in the back for the full 10 seconds the rocket lasted. But in that time, the train increased its ground speed to 188 miles an hour.

Lefranti coasted for a half a mile and then braked down. Bertin does not expect to use rocket power for production models, nor even jet engines. Neither are practical for the "slow" operating range of 60 to 250 miles an hour, in addition to causing a noise problem, he said.

The builder admitted that the conventional engines already make too much noise. But he believes this can be toned down.

Homeowner Group Slaps Liens On Dues Non-Payers

Payment of dues is serious business to the Lucas Valley Home Owners Assn.

The association has filed liens in the Marin County recorder's office against five members who have failed to pay dues for part of 1966.

Philip W. Hoffmire, president of the 395-member association, said today the group normally takes such action after those in arrears fail to respond to notices sent out by the association.

"Actually our percentage of collections is extremely high," Hoffmire said, "but the filing of liens is not unusual."

Hoffmire said valley residents paid $84, or $21 quarterly, last year for membership in the organization and for use of a swimming pool, tennis courts, community center, and cable television service. He said the association has approved a raise in dues to $94 this year.

Still Trying For Identification

Sheriff's officers today continued their efforts to identify the body of a middle-aged woman found Sunday on a Tiburon peninsula embankment.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said they are tracing a report that a woman answering her description stayed in a Tiburon motel about three months ago, and was also a patient at Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute in San Francisco.

He said the woman's wristwatch and other items will be taken to that hospital to see if any patient remembers them or the woman.

Toxicology reports are expected in about a week, and may determine cause of death. An autopsy indicates she died about three months ago.

Fine Given On Battery Charge

Marin Municipal Court Judge Peter Allen Smith yesterday placed Margaret Geri, 33, of Gate 6 Road, Sausalito, on a year's probation and fined her $56 for a Sept. 24 battery on a Sausalito policeman.

She and John Weissmuller, son of the famed movie Tarzan, had pleaded no contest to the charge of assault on Officer Michael Kielman in a fracas at Bridgeway and Princess Street in Sausalito.

Weissmuller, 26, of San Francisco, also pleaded no contest to destroying property of Thomas Driskill of 301 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, by kicking in a car window during the same disturbance. He is to be sentenced Jan. 5.

Reed School Seeking Trustee

Applications are being accepted by trustees of Reed School District to replace trustee David D. Ring, who is resigning from the Reed board in April for election to the Tamalpais High School board.

Supt. H. Joseph Edgington yesterday said letters of application may be mailed to the district office, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, before Jan. 3, next meeting date of the board. Interviews will be set up after that meeting, according to Edgington. Ring's term expires next June 30, 1967. The superintendent said the board in hoping to find a replacement who is willing to run in the April election.

Live Snake Sent As Prank Yule Gift

A prankster sent a 14-year-old Novato girl a live snake in the mail as a Christmas present yesterday, police reported.

A small package in Christmas wrapping was received by Melissa LaMotte, her father Gayle F. LaMotte of 90 Trish Drive, reported to police. When she opened it, a king snake about a foot long wiggled out.

Asst. postmaster Joseph Almeida said it was illegal to send snakes through the mail. He turned the case over to postal inspectors. The snake was turned loose in the country.

Christmas Music Scheduled On KTIM

Christmas Eve will be celebrated by radio station KTIM with a continuous program of Christmas music in stereo on its FM band, starting at 6 p.m.

Special Christmas music will be performed throughout Christmas Day, highlighted by a performance of the Tamalpais High School choir from 10:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on both KTIM and KTIM-FM. Regular news schedule will be followed on the holiday.

AID Students See Marin's Civic Center

Seventy graduate students, representing 22 foreign countries, cast admiring eyes today upon Marin's Civic Center.

"It's simply wonderful," said Puran B. Bista of Nepal, studying public administration at University of Arizona.

The students are in the United States under an Agency for International Development program. They are enrolled at various universities during the seven-month program.

Despite the soggy weather, the group, based in San Francisco during the holidays, was to visit Muir Woods National Monument this afternoon.

The students generally praised the center and asked many questions on how it was built and financed. There was one exception to the praise.

Zmarak Shalizi of Afghanistan, an architecture student at University of California, Berkeley, said he did not like the colors. But Shalizi was serving as a guide and not a part of the aid group. He is here on a five-year scholarship and had earlier spent a day taking pictures of the Frank Lloyd Wright building. "I got a little tired of it," he said.

Dominador Labit of the Philippines declared the building "out of this world."

Basiro Muh Gwarzo of Nigeria, studying ranch management at New Mexico University, had just one regret.

"It's too bad Mr. Wright did not live to see it," he said.

Dismissal In Forgery Case

Five counts of forging Peacock Gap Country Club checks were dismissed against William Edward Merkelsbach, 34, by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday for insufficient evidence.

The dismissal came prior to a scheduled preliminary hearing and on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Duffy. Duffy said the $225 allegedly obtained by forgery has been repaid.

He added that the alleged victim, E. P. Halsted Jr., of San Francisco, a former roommate of Merkelsbach's, has also said he once willingly loaned a credit card to Merkelsbach for use at the club under Halsted's account.

Merkelsbach, of 1411 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, was accused of the chit-signing spree last July and August.

Prison Escaper's Wallet Is Found

A San Rafael man found a wallet yesterday containing the identification papers of one of two convicts who escaped from San Quentin Prison Dec. 4 and are still at large.

John W. Freitas of 222 Solano Street, found the wallet at 2:30 p.m. in bushes near Hutchinson Co. quarry across Highway 101 from Greenbrae Hill. The papers belonged to Richard Henry Smith, 28, who walked away from the San Quentin ranch with Ernest E. Little, 38.

Smith, a second-degree burglar convict from Sacramento County, and Little, convicted of passing bad checks in Stanislaus County, were serving sentences of six months to 15 years.

Portable TV Is Stolen

Theft of a portable television set in a burglary of the home of Eleanor F. Heath, 138 Belvedere Drive, Strawberry, was reported by sheriff's officers today.

Deputies said entry was via an open window.

Burglars also entered Mary E. Silveira School, 375 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood. Officers said intruders broke a window of the teacher's multi-purpose room. Nothing was missing.

Mill Valley Driver Injured In Collision

Kenneth Fair, 16, of 1 Barrie Way, Mill Valley, told California Highway Patrol today he was treated at Marin General Hospital for a neck sprain Wednesday after being in a traffic accident on Waldo Grade at 5:40 p.m.

Fair told the patrol he was driving north near Rodeo Avenue and slowed for traffic when his car was hit from behind by one driven by Mrs. Nancy Behrens, of 130 Trinidad Drive, Tiburon. The impact pushed his car into the one ahead, driven by Joe Filippi, of 120 Washington Street, Novato.

JORDAN

reprisal for border raids by Arab terrorists.

Sources indicated the U.S. aid to Jordan includes armored personnel carriers to replace vehicles obtained after World War II from Britain.

"At the request of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan the United States government has agreed to provide under its existing military assistance program certain items of military equipment to strengthen the defensive capabilities of the Jordanian armed forces," the announcement said.

"A substantial portion of this equipment will be airlifted to Jordan over the next 30 to 60 days. In addition to these deliveries, some of the F104 interceptor aircraft, previously purchased by Jordan, will be expedited," the State Department said.

Hussein is considered a moderate and pro-Western Arab leader. After the Israeli attack last month, leaders of other Arab nations accused the king of neglecting his border defenses. Some elements, especially in Syria and Egypt, urged Jordanians to get rid of their king.

Sources indicated Jordan will get about 36 F104 planes. The exact number, however, is classified. Jordan will pay for the planes, but will receive the other equipment on a grant basis which apparently will double the present $4 million to $5 million a year military assistance to Jordan.

Rifle Incident Being Probed

A reported shooting at a deputy about two weeks ago was being investigated today by sheriff's officers.

Deputy Weldon C. Travis said he was arresting a Forest Knolls man on a child support complaint warrant yesterday when the man said a 20-year-old Lagunitas youth had fired a rifle at Travis in a moving patrol car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near White's Hill.

The would-be assailant, in ambush beside the road, missed Travis and the vehicle, the informant said.

Travis said he had been unaware of the ambush.

Brown's Papers To U.C. Library

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Brown today said he will deposit his papers and files at the University of California at Berkeley's Bancroft Library provided he has the right to control access to them during his lifetime.

Brown said if the papers remain at the library after his death, officials could open them to scholarly use.

Brown said he was accepting an invitation by University of California President Clark Kerr. Kerr wrote him the library "has become the center for research in modern political history in the state."

Ailing Youth Found, Rushed To Hospital

A 17-year-old San Rafael boy, Robert L. Kitchen, was treated last night at Marin General Hospital for an overdose of aspirin and released today to return home with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Fox of 710 Mission Avenue.

The boy, who is fighting a siege of the flu according to his aunt, was found ill in a telephone booth at Fifth and Tamalpais avenues by a friend of his family, Allen Judson of 165 Pine Drive, Fairfax. Judson notified San Rafael police, who called United Ambulance to take the youth to the hospital.

Woman Paid Honors Under Wrong Name

The name of one of the two Marin women listed in "outstanding young women of America" was not correct as printed yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Patricia Kay Lewis should have been Mrs. Patricia Kay Lewis Jones. Although she and Novato attorney David Price Jones have been married for five years, the publishers of the book have her listed under her maiden name, she said.

Psychiatrist Testifies Westmore Now Sane

Testimony by psychiatrists continued today in a Marin Superior Court hearing to determine whether Harry Westmore, 46-year-old slayer of College of Marin student Michael Lazar, has regained his sanity.

Westmore, declared insane June 27 during court trial and therefore freed of a murder charge, has petitioned for a ruling that he is now sane and for release from Napa State Hospital.

Dr. R. S. Rood, assistant superintendent of psychiatric service at the hospital, had submitted a written statement to Judge Thomas F. Keating. It said that "in our opinion he (Westmore) has recovered his sanity with adequate insight." Dr. Rood testified yesterday that it is "rather improbable" that Westmore can now be more easily triggered to a psychotic explosion than other persons.

Westmore is aware of his own feelings of persecution, the doctor said, and "would take steps to forestall" a recurrence of violence.

Westmore's attorney, Asst. Public Defender Harold J. Truett, asked, "Would you say he now has a built-in signal system whereby he would more readily recognize a (threatening) situation?"

The doctor said yes. Dr. James Bakhtiar, in charge of the Marin County admitting ward at Napa, testified that Westmore functioned as "a normal human being" in hospital dining room chores he performed.

He said Westmore has also participated well in group therapy sessions at the hospital.

Asked by Leonard Shaw, assistant district attorney, if Westmore has shown remorse over the killing of Lazar, he replied he has "had no reason to examine him in regard to this."

"We never touched on the subject so I can't say if he did or did not," he said.

Other psychiatrists testifying are Dr. David G. Schmidt of Larkspur, and Doctors Joseph P. Gutstadt and Robert W. Burke of San Rafael.

Judge Keating has indicated he will probably take the matter under submission rather than rule immediately after the hearing. Westmore killed Lazar, a College of Marin student, and wounded Lazar's companion, Janine Lieberman, during a visit by the pair in Westmore's apartment in Kentfield on Nov. 5, 1965.

Workers Plan Hospital Strikes

OAKLAND (UPI) — Alameda County hospital workers voted last night to strike two county hospitals Dec. 31 unless their pay demands are met.

Union officials had said they planned to withhold strike action until after a Jan. 10 meeting with the county board of supervisors.

The non-professional hospital workers were described as "too angry to wait", however, after the supervisors recently voted themselves pay increases without agreeing to raise hospital salaries.

A union spokesman said attempts would be made to negotiate an agreement before the strike deadline.

The two hospitals threatened by the strike action are Fairmont and Highland.

A LIVING PAGEANT—At Mill Valley Methodist Church, Cindy Nelson and Gary Albert portray Mary and Joseph beside the cradle in a manger. They were joined moments later by other youngsters playing the shepherds who followed the star to Bethlehem and by the three kings who made their Christmas gifts to the newborn child.

Eugene Norris Gilson, 39, of Petaluma suffered minor injuries yesterday on the Nicasio-San Geronimo Road, one and one-half miles north of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, when his southbound car slid off the shoulder, hit a telephone pole and landed against a tree at 7:45 a. m., according to California Highway Patrol.

Signs Indicate New Anti-Smut Law During '67

SACRAMENTO (AP) — All signs indicate the legislature will pass a new anti-pornography law next year specifically aimed at protecting children from smut.

November's election drastically revised the makeup of the key Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee, long the graveyard of pornography legislation.

BACKING PLEDGED
The incoming Republican administration has pledged its backing to new laws curbing the sale of salacious material, and a recent Associated Press poll found near unanimous support from lawmakers for changing the existing law.

But despite the apparent unanimity of purpose, roadblocks that have stymied tightening of the law for the past five years still exist.

Primary obstacle remains writing a law that will meet the test of the U.S. Constitution, as interpreted in recent controversial decisions by the U.S. Supreme Court.

PRESENT LAW
Coleman Blease, lobbyist for the American Civil Liberties Union — a major opponent of past legislative efforts at tightening the law—feels the present law is "liveable." The key phrase in the law, he says, is one that protects any material unless it is "utterly without redeeming social importance."

The phrase was a key target in Prop. 16, the stringent anti-pornography initiative rejected by voters in November.

One of the opponents of the initiative was Lt. Gov. - elect Robert H. Finch, who said it was unconstitutional and pledged to offer proposals of his own. But Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan supported Prop. 16.

Finch's legislation is still on the drawing board, but he says it will be directed at keeping "morally corruptive material" out of the hands of juveniles. Finch hasn't yet fully defined "morally corruptive," and Blease feels it is on this language that new legislation may falter.

COURT RULING

"The U.S. Supreme Court has said that society cannot balance the worth of a book against its salaciousness," says Blease. "In other words, if a book has redeeming social importance it can't be banned, no matter how sexy or prurient it is."

For the past four years, the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee has prevented anti-pornography legislation from reaching the floor. Proponents have felt past bills could have gained passage had they gotten out of committee, since lawmakers are not prone to voting openly against attempts to control smut.

After November's balloting, only four of the committee's 10 members remained. Others were defeated or departed the lower house to run for the Senate.

THE INTEREST

Although all supported a revision of the law, a number of lawmakers polled said they felt public interest in the issue of pornography had been vastly overrated.

Blease agrees: "You'll notice that all the anti-pornography literature you read makes two contradictory points. One, that the majority of people hate pornography; and two, that millions of people are reading it."

SPRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Waif Won't Endure Holiday In Jail Cell

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The spirit of Christmas flooded welfare offices today with telephone calls from throughout the nation offering to help a homeless 11-year-old boy who is in jail.

And the child will not spend Christmas in jail.

"It's amazing," said Mrs. Louis Chastain of the State Department of Family and Children Services. "Everybody's called now except President Johnson and the Russian Embassy."

Mrs. Chastain said the boy's grandmother had been found in Miami, Fla., "and he'll get to eat Christmas dinner with his grandmother."

The boy, whose name is withheld under state law, was arrested Tuesday at a bus station after, police said, he took some costume jewelry from a store. He also was accused of stealing a pistol from a residence.

He was placed in the Thomas County Jail because the city has no juvenile detention home and the person with whom the boy had been living was physically unable to care for him.

Besieged by offers to take the boy in for Christmas, the state agency succeeded in tracking down his grandmother. His mother is in a Florida prison and nothing is known of his father.

"The thing we are so pleased with is the universal desire to help," said Mrs. Chastain. "Calls from everywhere, everywhere."

A family in suburban Philadelphia telephoned the Associated Press office there seeking to take the boy for Christmas.

"I wish there was some way we could put this Christmas spirit in a can and hold it over the rest of the year," said Mrs. Chastain.

Reno Kidnap Suspects Still At Bay

RENO (AP) — There are few clues to the whereabouts of two men and a woman sought in the kidnapping of a Reno gambling casino credit manager, the FBI said today.

Two of the kidnapers were in Los Angeles Tuesday and the other was in Las Vegas Wednesday, agents learned.

"If we find them the whole world will hear about it fast," said Dean Elson, agent in charge of the FBI's Nevada operation.

U.S. Commissioner Bernard Supera Jr. issued warrants yesterday charging two Arkansas ex-convicts, Robert Gawne, 28, and William Thomas Banks, 23, and a woman believed to be Mrs. Mary Kathryn Evans with kidnapping Mrs. Eddith Grisham, 58.

Mrs. Grisham, an employee of Harolds Club for 25 years, was abducted at gunpoint in Reno Monday and driven by car to the California cities of Sacramento, Merced, Bakersfield and Los Angeles, and then to Las Vegas.

Banks and Mrs. Evans, step-sister, of Gawne, left Gawne alone with the woman in Los Angeles Tuesday and Gawne took her to Las Vegas, the FBI said.

Primary motive was to use Mrs. Grisham's sports car for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for grand larceny in Rawlins, Wyo., said Asst. U.S. Atty. Jay Sourwine.

Sourwine said the trio made no ransom demands and Mrs. Grisham was not molested.

Gawne and Banks, also sought for questioning in two Michigan slayings were described as heavily armed and extremely dangerous.

Sabella's Doesn't Overlook The Person Who Prefers Meat

It takes less trouble and time to prepare meat dishes, and the allowable margin for error is greater, than in preparing seafoods.

This is the considered opinion of Lou Sabella, who in his day has served some apprenticeship working in the kitchen with both types of viandry. Seafoods, says he, require more attention and more finesse — particularly with combination dishes.

In spite of this, Sabella's 101 Highway restaurant serves more seafood than beef, and probably always will. It's hard to think of anything else when you look at the many selections on the menu — a number of which aren't easily found elsewhere. And apparently there has been no falling off in business because of relaxed religious rules on Friday fare.

Actually it's just as easy to order meat as fish at Sabella's, and they'll be happy to serve it to you. Look at the menu a little more closely and you'll observe that its contents do not originate entirely in lake, river or sea. There is quite a bit from the open range.

It's nice to know that if there's a beefeater in your party and you're leaning toward Sabella's you don't have to skip it because of one man's preferred diet.

You might bear this in mind for New Year's Eve, when this restaurant is splitting its four special dinner entrees equally — lobster thermidor or baked flounder gourmet on one side and New York steak or prime rib of beef on the other.

Make reservations for that night. The tab is $12.50 per person, with dancing from 9 to midnight to one of Bob Olney's orchestras.

RUBIN'S had a date to celebrate last Saturday night — an eighth anniversary here for Dick Templeton and Gordon Jones. I mentioned it a while back, but neglected to say more last week. Belated congratulations.

The real time for celebrating, no doubt, will be on New Year's Eve. Regular meals will be served from 6 p.m. Special New Year's champagne dinners will begin at 10 p.m. Lots of other activity. Lowell Hawk and Frank Stitt will do their annual two-some at piano and organ, which invariably packs the lounge.

Now that Gordon and Dick have bought the property here, it's conceivable that there will be some major physical changes in the restaurant during 1967. And this time next year there will be more reason than ever to celebrate.

YOU'LL HAVE TO LOOK HARDER for a restaurant serving dinner on Christmas than was the case on Thanksgiving. I have made no across-the-board check, but the custom is for most places to close. And since Monday is a regular day of closing for many you're likely to find them out of circulation both days.

One exception is Clay's Farmhouse in Olema — open Christmas day, serving its regular menu from noon to 10 p.m. And homemade biscuits and desserts.

Clay's will also be open New Year's Eve, serving the regular dinner menu to 10 p.m. and then a free buffet for the frolic hours of 10 to 2 a.m. Favors and noisemakers, and dancing to the music from the juke box.

FROM THE DECORATIONS at Bill and Adolph's West End Villa you might think this place would be open, too — but only Christmas Eve, Sunday and Monday it will be closed. On New Year's Eve West End will serve its regular holiday menu, have favors and noisemakers and strolling musicians. Suggest reservations.

Now tending bar here is Eugene Bellutini, formerly at Dominic's.

Utility District Filing Deadline

Deadline for filing petitions of candidacy for director of the proposed combination of the Bolinas and Bolinas Beach Public Utility Districts is Jan. 7 at the county clerk's office.

A special election on Feb. 7 will decide the question of the proposed merger and provide three members of the new district, if it is formed.

Forms for the petitions of candidacy are available at both district offices. Each district will have its own polling place on election day—the Mesa Clubhouse for the Bolinas Beach District and the Community Center for the Bolinas District, according to Sherman Smith, manager of the Bolinas District.

This organization provides satined and ruffled cocktail waitresses, selected for sociability, figure and poise, for parties, meetings and receptions.

LAST I HEARD, there was still room for more reservations at Tiburon Tommie's Mai Tai for New Year's. Tommie Cox has a $7.50 per person package for that night, including Polynesian dinner, champagne to toast the new year and dancing to the Sal Carson band, long a favorite at Hoberg's Lake County.

Upstairs at Tommie's, of course, will be given over to this event, using both the Maori loft and the Destination South Pacific Room. The party is being limited to 75 or 80 couples. More than half that number has already been made up.

The restaurant is new in the sense that it is a rebuilt and remodeled dinery to replace the former Peter Alioto's Fish House that burned last August and had to be closed. New decor boasts walnut paneling, wall murals, red and gold-flocked wallpaper and crystal chandeliers.

USO Spending A Million For Our Men In Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The USO, which has been a home away from home for millions of GI's since World War II, is spending $1 million in Vietnam "and we expect it will be about the same in 1967."

Retired Air Force Gen. Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell Jr., president of the United Service Organization, said today that $1 million of the USO's $5.3-million budget for 1966 went to its activities in Vietnam "and we expect it will be about the same in 1967."

The Defense Department has asked "for double what we're doing now, but I don't know how we can do it," O'Donnell said. "We don't have the wherewithal but we keep hacking away at it."

The USO, a private agency supported by contributions, now has 10 clubs in Vietnam. During November more than 300,000 servicemen stopped in for hamburgers and milk shakes or a free cup of coffee. O'Donnell said there are plans to set up five or six more next year.

"These young men need a place to go off base where there are good recreation facilities," he continued. "We know a fast game of checkers won't replace illicit sex, but at least it will give them a choice."

The general, 60, who commanded America's bombers in the Korean War, came to Vietnam with Bob Hope's troupe to tour USO facilities.

He told a news conference his organization in Vietnam suffers from a shortage of skilled help and needs a larger professional staff. It now has 28 Americans and about 400 Vietnamese working at the 10 clubs.

O'Donnell said 80 performers have come to Vietnam this year under USO sponsorship and a new technique has evolved because of the nature of the war.

Any location is liable to attack by terrorists "so we try to avoid having large crowds gather," he said. Instead, entertainers such as John Wayne and George Jessel "just pay visits to small groups rather than put on a show, and this has been tremendously successful."

AUTO MAKERS HIT ON SAFETY STAND

Doctor Blasts 'Emotional Outcry' From Detroit, Doubts Lead Time Arguments

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—The president of the Physicians for Automotive Safety today accused the automobile industry of a deliberate attempt to cripple the work of the National Traffic Safety Agency and its head, Dr. William Haddon Jr.

Dr. Seymour Charles said the "recent emotional outcry" by American automakers against proposed standards "raises serious questions about the auto industry's sincerity and real interest in responding to the auto safety problem in this country."

He called for a resurgence of public support for a safer automobile, and warned that the car manufacturers' "sudden hostility" to the government's new safety program is threatening the adoption of proposed safety standards for 1968 cars.

"It appears the companies are acting in concert in a desperate attempt to scuttle the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act of 1966," he said.

The physician charged that Detroit is trying to confuse the issue of how long the industry needs to implement the safety features.

"What is the true lead time?" he asked. "We're told 42 months by Mr. Henry Ford, yet his Mustang car went from drawing board to assembly line in half this time."

"Just one year ago," he added, "the auto industry denied the feasibility of a collapsible steering assembly. Then, after a few weeks of mounting and legislative pressure—and with just six weeks lead time—collapsible steering as standard equipment for its 1967 models was announced by General Motors and American Motors."

He said these facts could not be reconciled with the statement by Ford that it is already too late to change anything except the name of the car.

"If, in fact, there are impossible safety goals, then the industry is clearly obliged to present full evidence to support its contentions," he said. "We have not been given this evidence."

Airman Injured In Span Snarl

An airman from Hamilton Air Force Base was treated for bruises on his left arm at Marin General Hospital yesterday after a four-car accident on the Golden Gate Bridge at 5 p. m.

Booker T. Williams, 20, was southbound in the fast lane when another car moved from the middle lane in front of his, he told the California Highway Patrol. Williams car crossed the center median and hit a northbound car driven by Gregory Quentin Yonally, 18, of 6070 Redwood Highway, Novato, then was hit by another northbound car driven by C. Roy Thomas 58, of 6 Blackberry Lane, Lucas Valley, the highway patrol reported.

Despite the heavy commute traffic, congestion was cleared within minutes the patrol said.

A Santa Boat Visit

Santa Claus will arrive by many ways tomorrow night. At Bel Marin Keys in Novato, he will arrive in a cabin cruiser between 6 and 8 p. m. to visit the docks and give candy canes to the children, according to Anthony L. Ricci of the sponsoring Community Services District.

HELICOPTER OVER BURNING BOAT

A Coast Guard helicopter hovers over the flaming remains of a 40-foot boat owned by a Detroit man as it burns in Biscayne Bay in Florida.

The explosion, which occurred yesterday, threw the boat's lone occupant overboard. He was not hurt. The boat burned to the waterline. (UPI Telephoto)

Another 1,500 Children Visit Santa By Telephone

Santa Claus, flying by radar through thick fog, left Marin for the North Pole last night after talking with another 1,500-odd Marin children in the second and final night of the ninth "Call Santa" project.

More than 3,000 of his clients gave Santa the word on local tastes in Christmas presents during his two-night telephone tour at the Independent-Journal in San Rafael. Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley and Western Telephone Co. in Novato. The "Call Santa" programs were sponsored by the I-J and the Junior Chamber of Commerce of San Rafael, Mill Valley, and Novato.

Some of the orders may be difficult to fill. One boy called for the second time to request a pink puppy, while Santa may need a larger sack and a chimney-spreader to deliver the reindeer "just like Rudolph" that a little girl desired.

Santa was puzzled for a time by a child who wanted his mother for Christmas, but he finally discovered the mother is in a hospital but is to be home tomorrow.

Most requests were clearer. Several teen-age girls asked Santa Claus for high black boots and football players, while one woman followed her child's relatively simple demands with a wish for a mink coat and a new Camaro.

Not everyone is satisfied with a well-behaved reindeer.

Search Halted For A While For Otto Meyer

The one-man search for a former Marin County official feared lost somewhere in the rugged Santa Cruz Mountains was called off today, but is scheduled to be resumed after Christmas.

Paul Tara, Santa Cruz County sheriff, returned last night from a lone search of an area near Boulder Creek—tired and disappointed but not without hope.

"I still have one ridge I want to explore," he said. "It's tough walking and I have to examine every fallen log and every rock formation."

Otto H. Meyer, 57, former Marin County chief building inspector, was reported missing from his Sunnyvale home Nov. 28. Police fear he may be the victim of a mountain climbing accident.

He left for a climbing vacation Nov. 18 and his 1957 Cadillac was eventually found abandoned on a seldom-used road in the area.

He was employed as a building inspector with the Santa Clara County Department of Public Works.

Court Upholds No-Strike Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-judge federal appeals court upheld today a lower court decision ordering striking steelworkers back to work at Kokomo, Ind. plants producing vital materials for warplanes for Vietnam.

An attorney for the United Steelworkers of America (AFL-CIO) said he did not know whether the union will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The court left in effect a stay of execution of its order until 5 p. m. to allow time for an appeal.

Assessor Target Of Grand Jury

SAN JOSE (UPI)—The Santa Clara County assessor's office was accused by the grand jury yesterday of operating "contrary to the law."

A report by the jury's finance committee charged "unfair practices of favoritism and arbitrary and inequitable practices of assessments."

The report said, however, there was no indication of "anything of a criminal nature."

It said "irrefutable evidence" was found "which established beyond any reasonable doubt that taxpayers . . . have not been assessed on an equitable basis by the business division."

The committee said it found a special locked file under the supervision of one man. It recommended that the firms in the file be handled in the same manner as any taxpayer.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Christmas Eve is a warm and nostalgic time—a time for remembering. So tomorrow's issue of your Independent-Journal Marin Magazine takes you back to the Christmas season in an earlier era of the county's history. I-J Historian Florence Donnelly recalls what it was like at the turn of the century when as a child she and her parents made the trip to Tomales annually to spend the joyous holidays with her grandparents.

Christmas present will also be well represented in the holiday issue of the magazine. For instance, one picture story will take you to huge Hamilton Air Force Base to show you how the officers, the enlisted men and their families are celebrating the holidays. And there will also be a story about a Marin couple and their children who observe Christmas in all the rich and hallowed traditions of their native England.

Christmas Rekindles Hope For World Peace

"Observe good faith and justice toward all nations," said George Washington in his Farewell Address in 1796. "Cultivate peace and harmony with all..."

For 150 years, Americans have been striving toward that peace and harmony, with some success and many failures.

Despite the setbacks, we do not despair. Particularly, on the eve of Christmas, our hopes have been rekindled.

In Vietnam, the Communists and the United States and its allies have agreed on truces for Christmas and the New Year holidays.

Efforts for world peace have been made in other directions. The United States and other major powers have reached an agreement on a treaty that would bar nuclear weapons from outer space.

This is an extension of the nuclear test ban treaty ratified three years ago. Last October, at the third anniversary of the test ban treaty, President Johnson said: "The test ban treaty is the fruit of our hope. With more than 100 other co-signers we have committed ourselves to advance from deterrence terror toward a more cooperative international order. We must go forward to banish all nuclear weapons—and to banish war itself."

It is tragic that during this season of peace and goodwill, our thoughts must constantly revert to the ravages of hate and violence.

But those are the realities we cannot escape. They are with us constantly, in the news and pictures of those who are suffering, in the letters from loved ones overseas, and in the voices that have been silenced forever.

Pope Paul VI has suggested linking the two holiday truces in Vietnam into a longer armistice "so that new ways may be explored of bringing about an honorable understanding" which would end the conflict.

It is our fervent hope that the truce will be extended, and the Christmas spirit of peace and goodwill will pervade the universe.

artistic appreciation of natural beauty, in severe cases it can border on sheer delirium.

Mental in nature, it is a wonder of euphoria to those of us who are smitten with the Goldfinch or Quail, or even Jays or what-have-you.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

STRONGER THAN SHE THOUGHT

A sudden emergency during a storm proved to an 18-year-old girl that she had greater reserve strength than she was aware of.

When the teen-ager and her cousin, a boy of 14, were walking together in Columbus, Ohio, high winds ripped off a 40-foot tree limb just above them. It came down on the youngster, striking him on the head and pinning him to the ground.

The girl, who weighs only 100 pounds, seized the 150-pound branch, hoisted it about four feet, and held it while her injured cousin crawled to safety.

Later, when the teen-ager returned to the scene of the accident with photographers, she tried to demonstrate how she had lifted the limb. She found she could not budge it.

When faced with sudden personal danger, people often show extraordinary strength or endurance. By going to greater lengths when the lives of others are at stake, they reveal even more strikingly God's power working within them.

"All things are possible with God."

IT'S GOING TO be special merry Christmas for the Hadden W. Roths of Mill Valley. Attorney Roth has been elevated to the Marin Municipal Court bench.

Judge Roth has never been much of a believer in fortune cookies, but he has now been converted. On Dec. 9, a full 10 days before his appointment to the bench was announced, Roth was having lunch with several of his colleagues at Eng's Restaurant.

He opened his fortune cookie and smiled nervously as he read: "You will be singled out for promotion."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Work On Auto Case Appreciated

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On the night of Dec. 9, my car was struck while parked, empty, by a hit-run driver. Cash damage: $350.

Even with insurance of $100 deductible, the prices, especially at Christmas, is high.

But I, no richer than the next man but better off than many, want to express my admiration for one Inspector Stamatidis of the Hit and Run Detail, San Francisco Police Department, who so far has contacted me twice on the case. It is more than comforting to know that he is a member of a group of dedicated men.

May I publicly express a "Very Merry Christmas" to him and his detail—and all the men in blue who, I am assured, do everything humanly possible to provide the public with equal comfort and protection. Although the results of the investigation are so far negative, it may cheer those men to have this small acknowledgment.

Learn The Facts Before Speaking

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A Mrs. F. D. Milazzo wrote a letter which appeared in your paper on Dec. 15, regarding the Marin County Department of Public Social Services. In this letter she alluded to a "disturbing experience" wherein a young friend of hers has been denied aid while implying that less "worthy" people—the ones who had illegitimate kids—the immoral ones—qualified for aid. I can understand Mrs. Milazzo's agitation over her friend's plight—the fact that her husband is in Vietnam and her allotment is only $123 a month, but this does not excuse the unjustified and irresponsible allegations that she made in this letter.

Firstly, the decision that resulted in her friend's being denied aid stemmed from specific federal-state regulations which prohibited any other decision. It was not a whimsical or arbitrary act upon the part of the Marin County Department of Public Social Services as the writer suggested.

Secondly, Mrs. Milazzo further alleged that the Department helped only those who were "immoral" or "crummy"—the ones who had illegitimate kids—rather than her friend who, in her opinion, was much more worthy.

Certainly the Marin County Department of Public Social Services, which has the highest reputation and takes pride in its humane and progressive policies, needs no defense against an attack of this kind. Would Mrs. Milazzo have the Department judge each individual in terms of who was moral and who was immoral? Who was deserving of aid and who was not?

I would suggest that Mrs. Milazzo take the trouble to ascertain the facts before launching her diatribe upon the always convenient scapegoat—Public Welfare.

'Gestapo-Like' Is Overworked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Congratulations! to Mrs. Charles Strom and Dr. Mitchell L. Voydat, who recently incurred the wrath of the California Federation of Teachers.

Considering the individuals, groups and institutions that have been the targets of the Federation, I would say that our board member and assistant superintendent are in pretty good company!

Incidentally, do other readers wonder why certain groups, referring to actions they consider similar to secret police tactics, always use the term, "Gestapo-like?" The name is enough, (and may be designed) to make decent people retch, but just for variety, why not alternate it with OGPU, or NKVD? They are at least as sickening as their Nazi counterparts.

Makes one wonder who or what is behind all the "blasts," doesn't it?

Let's Have A Leash Law

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I sympathize with Mrs. Rapp of Novato in the loss of her dog, and agree that a driver who hits a dog, child, chair, or any other property should stop and face his responsibilities.

However, I also feel that owners of dogs, children, chair or whatever should face their responsibilities and keep their property off the streets.

Leash laws and pedestrian regulations should be as rigidly enforced as those regulating automobiles.

Welfare Plight Very Misleading

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to refer to the heart-rending, but wrong story of Mrs. F. D. Milazzo, Hamilton Air Force Base, in which she tells the story of the wife of a serviceman in Vietnam who has to live on $123 a month. The welfare dept. had refused any assistance.

Mrs. Milazzo, living on the air base, must be married to a serviceman and she of all people should know how misleading her story is. The welfare dept. and all other humanitarian societies could supplement the income of a serviceman. After all, a husband is supposed to look after his family and Mrs. Milazzo could easily find out how much the serviceman is getting from the government.

The $123 income mentioned by Mrs. Milazzo is the quarters allowance given to the families of the serviceman's rank. Therefore the serviceman is not sending any voluntary contribution for the support of his wife and child. The family receives from the government as follows:

Wife: $123 quarters allowance.
Airman third class in combat area:
Base Pay $141.00
Foreign Service 9.00
Hazardous Duty 65.00
Quarters Allowance 83.10
Clothing Allowance 4.80

Total Income $302.90
Taking $123 from $302.90 leaves $179.90 for the airman, so how can anyone claim the family should get public welfare funds?

If Mrs. Milazzo is looking for something or someone to criticize, which seems to be her main aim, why doesn't she criticize the husband, who is keeping for himself more than is received by his family. He is getting his room and board plus his pay and other monetary benefits. If he were concerned about his family he could get along on a few dollars per month for his personal needs.

This serviceman like any other head of family, should support his own family. Other servicemen do. Why doesn't this one???

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

LBJ Faces Tough Decision Over Supersonic Jet Transport Date

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's tough decisions are never in short supply. They mount. They range from the conduct of war and peace in Vietnam to the conduct of the war on poverty.

And the needs for spending—on the racially tense city ghettos, on education, mass transit, air and water pollution—press in upon the White House.

THIS IS WHY the President's decision on whether to proceed now or delay the speediest possible production of the 300-passenger, 1,800-mile-an-hour supersonic transport is not an easy one.

This is why, it seems to me, the government's part in the SST's development ought to be seen as a prudent investment from which all taxpayers' money is to be recovered with interest, plus many other crucial dividends for the nation.

Two decisions need to be made shortly. The White House should choose between the Lockheed and Boeing designs and decide whether to ask Congress for $326 million next year to build the prototype.

A DELAY in deciding or a half-way decision contracting with both Lockheed and Boeing to proceed with prototypes—which would create still further delay—could well end up by costing the nation and its aviation industry their world leadership for years to come.

Obviously, no layman can judge whether the Lockheed or the Boeing version is better. But the case for deciding it one way or another, so that the competitive British-French and Soviet supersonic planes do not pre-empt the world's airways, is not complex.

The controlling facts are these:

The joint British-French production of the smaller supersonic Concorde, begun earlier, is further along today than the SST. If all speed is put into the production of one prototype of the SST, the Concorde will still be in commercial use at least two years ahead of us.

MANY AIRLINES have already ordered Concorde; quite rightly. Every month's delay in the SST means the sale of more Concorde and the purchase of every Concorde by an American or foreign airline costs the U. S. vital dollar income. A year's delay means the loss of approximately $3.4 billion in the U. S. balance of payments—brought about by loss of sales abroad and by the fact that for every year the SST is delayed U. S. airlines are forced to buy 80 more Concorde just to keep in competition.

Already 25 airlines in 14 countries have placed orders for the U. S. super-jet. They want it even when they are beginning to use the Concorde. It is a conservative estimate that the total sale of SSTs will reach at least 900 and that by 1985 the U. S. balance of payments will be benefited by more than $38 billion.

IT IS ALMOST impossible to overstate the impact of the SST production program on the nation's economy. The industry will be spending about $1 billion a year for 18 years to fill foreseeable orders. The direct result will be 130,000 jobs spread over 40 states and the indirect economic benefits will be felt by 650,000 people.

The development of the SST is in no way a government boondoggle. It is simply too big an undertaking to be financed by any single industry or group of airlines. In its beginning stages it has to be financed by government to a total of somewhat less than $2 billion until the planes begin to roll from the assembly lines. But the whole investment is to be paid royalties based on 300 planes—and this without jeopardizing the profitability of the SST to the airlines.

THE GOVERNMENT could hardly use its money more wisely. It aids the war on poverty by aiding free enterprise.

Soviets Get Involved Along Mediterranean

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A Defense Intelligence Agency study points out that the increase in arms and naval activities in the Mediterranean began after Moscow's backdown in the Cuban missile crisis.

"In the Cuban missile crisis," says the DIA report, "the Russians failed in their objective because they did not control the skies or seas. They learned a lesson from this. They realized that in order to make their influence permanent, their base of operations and connecting air and sea routes must be secured by overwhelming military power."

THERE ALSO are significant indications that Russia contemplates establishing a ground-to-air missile system in Algeria.

In recent weeks two shipments of crates similar to those used for SAM2 missiles were unloaded from a vessel that brought five MIG21 jet interceptors to Algeria. More than 1,000 Soviet technicians are in that country.

Russia is moving to try to take over control of the copper mines and air fields in Zambia. Two Soviet delegations, first to visit that country since it gained independence two years ago, are in the country discussing this possibility with Zambia officials. Since members of the delegation are seeking residences for more than a year, British intelligence is warning that a secret deal may already have negotiated.

The National Crime Commission, nearing completion of its 18-month study, will explode a jolting disclosure in its forthcoming report to President Johnson.

SCHEDULED FOR release in late January, the survey will charge that 10 times more crimes are committed in the slums of U. S. cities than actually reported to police.

The commission's findings are based on data compiled by a national polling organization and on-the-spot investigations by its own staff members in Boston, Chicago, New York and Washington, D. C.

Indirectly, the report will challenge the accuracy of crime statistics published by police in these cities.

STILL BEING drafted are the commission's recommendations on the use of electronic eavesdropping devices by federal and state authorities in their fight against organized crime.

Justice Department insiders are indicating Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, former attorney general, who is chairman of the commission, is urging members to advocate tight restrictions on these methods of information gathering. Katzenbach favors outlawing them unless approved in advance by courts.

The FBI's annual report will disclose that the crime rate in the U. S. since 1960 has risen about six times faster than the population. It will state, "The over-all crime rate for the nation has increased 35 per cent since 1960."

THE NATIONAL Advisory Commission on Selective Service has discovered that members of some local draft boards are 70 to 90 years old. The commission will recommend to the President that an overall age limit of 70 be set for draft board members.

Rancher Claims Right To Kill Family Pets Molesting Stock

George Giannecchini, Tennessee Valley rancher, appealed this week to dog owners to control their pets — or he will shoot them if they continue to molest his cows.

"If you ever saw any of those dogs when they were at home," he said, "you'd never guess they could be the same ones who go after my cows." Even the affable dog who brings his master slippers in the evening, it seems, can turn killer when he steps out for a jaunt with his buddies.

And why not? Even affable people can get vicious in a pack.

The state's Agricultural Code gives ranchers the right to kill animals molesting their stock. Sgt. Wade Powell of the sheriff's office noted. And there cannot be any confusion about protection of rare birds when it comes to a dog.

THE CODE ALSO provides that if a pet kills a ranch animal the rancher can collect twice the value of his animal from the pet's owner. Giannecchini said most of his beef and dairy cows are worth $300 to $350. So if you fail to control your dog, it easily could cost you his life and $700.

Considering the price of dog food, this sort of thing really can drive up the cost of living. It doesn't take many dogs running together to cause trouble, Giannecchini explained. Generally, there are three dogs in a pack.

MOST RECENT incident was last week, he said, when two dogs ran 11 cows over the hill and through several barbed wire fences into Tamalpais Valley. Suburbia is that close. If the cows tire and slow down before the dogs get bored, he said, then they are attacked by the dogs. Often, he finds his cows' tails and ears have been chewed — and sometimes the cows are severely mauled.

And, occasionally, cows are found with broken backs or necks suffered when run by the dogs into a creek bed or off a steep hill.

Shooting the dogs "is only alternative," Giannecchini concluded, "it's the only thing we can do."

SIGN OF THE TIMES: Homeowners in downtown Mill Valley are offering to share their driveways with commuters and persons who work downtown. One is even asking $25 a month.

City hall has not responded to my suggestion that their municipal palace be razed and replaced with a high-rise garage.

I guess they think it's an outrageous idea — but so is $25 a month to park your car in Mill Valley.

DESPISE appearances, it does not take much to make a policeman happy.

Just a little appreciation. And appreciation is what Mill Valley policemen got for Christmas from Den 5 of Pack 28 of Mill Valley Cub Scouts. Seven boys, under the patient guidance of Den Mother Mrs. Nicholas Graven Jr., made a small potted Christmas tree of rolled up aqua toilet paper. Decorated with a host of bangles, it stands proudly on the complaint desk.

The seven boys are Richard Castle, David O'Saki, Mark Frederick, Eric Erickson, Eric Graven, Doug Keiler and Steven Jawetz.

"It's this sort of thing," said Police Chief Dan Terzich, "that makes police work worthwhile."

Alien Addresses Due In January

Aliens in Marin County — as elsewhere in the United States — must file their current addresses with the Immigration and Naturalization Service during January.

Forms for making the reports will be available at all post offices through Jan. 31, according to the service's district director, C. W. Fullilove, in San Francisco.

Only accredited diplomats and people associated with certain international organizations are exempt from the law, he said.

And he warned: "The law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement."

Hospital Christmas For Queen Mother

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth will spend Christmas in a hospital. A medical bulletin from Clarence House, her London home, said yesterday she continues to make steady progress, but will stay in King Edward VII Hospital for the next few days.

The queen mother, 66, underwent an operation to remove an abdominal obstruction 12 days ago.

Moyers Has Left, But Johnson Still Has 'No' Men On Staff

WASHINGTON—The immediate reaction of most people, when they heard that Bill Moyers had resigned from the White House, was that there wouldn't be anybody left in the administration who would stand up and say "no" to President Johnson.

There are many in Washington who believe that President Johnson will now be surrounded with nothing but "yes men," but an unnamed White House aide denied emphatically that this was true.

HE TOLD ME, "There are many of us who work in the White House who say 'no' to the President three and four times a day and he respects us for it."

"Could you give me an example?" I said.

"Well, just yesterday I was in the President's office and he said to me, 'Do you think my popularity is slipping as much as the polls indicate?'" and I said, 'No, Mr. President, I don't think it is!'"

"That's amazing," I said. "And he didn't get angry?"

"He did not. He respected me for saying 'no' to him."

"COULD YOU give me another example?"

"Well, last week one of the people in the White House went to the President, and the President said to him, 'I hope you haven't planned to spend Christmas with your family,' and this person retorted without hesitation, 'No, Mr. President, I hadn't.' Now does that sound like a yes man to you?"

"It certainly doesn't. It takes courage to say 'no' to the President of the United States."

"These are just two isolated examples," the aide said. "But it happens every day. No President wants his staff to agree with him all the time. Why, a few weeks ago we had a meeting and the President asked our frank opinion on what we thought about a tax raise. One aide said, 'Yes, Mr. President, I think there ought to be one.' And the President said, 'I don't like yes men on my staff.' So the aide immediately said 'No, Mr. President, I don't think there should be one.'"

"THINGS LIKE that give you faith," I had to admit.

"You must understand," the White House aide said, "that you're not doing a service to the President or the country if you agree with him all the time. I recall when I first started in this job being ushered into the President's office and the President said to me, 'Do you think ah can please all of the people all of the time and still be a great President?' and I said, 'No."

COUNTY COMMENT

Doctors' Skill Provides Me With A Fine Christmas Present

Well, I received a nice Christmas present on Dec. 15. Due to the expertness of two fine doctors I was able to come home from the hospital in a week after entering, instead of the three weeks which had been contemplated.

The notice in the paper mentioned minor surgery. There was none.

During a telephone call I mentioned minor surgery which was misunderstood. For over 35 years I have had trouble with my legs, but have been able to live with it.

This time and one other, during an election, I got into real trouble with them. I am now wearing for two weeks plastic boots on each leg from the knee down — molded on me something like a cast.

My thanks and appreciation to the nice folks who sent the cards and messages.

BECAUSE THIS is Christmas week, and I know most of you will be busy and perhaps not find time to do any extensive reading, the evaluation of the "Department of Economic Development" for the past year will be carried over to next week. However here is more of the Grand Jury's report—this follows the section I quoted last week.

"The salary of the original position was advertised at $13,200, yet Mr. John M. Douglas was hired at a salary of $15,600."

"The Board of Supervisors should not have increased the salary and changed the classification advertised for the position, without first making an additional effort to recruit at the higher salary level, and new classification, inasmuch as advertisement of the higher salary and new classification might have produced a different group of candidates."

We believe that Supervisor Leydecker committed an error in judgment when he failed to notify the other board members, that the successful candidate was his neighbor and acquaintance, and that he should have abstained from voting."

YOU MAY REMEMBER him saying . . . "If I wanted to put people who are friends of mine into county government, I wouldn't do it in this crude fashion" and also the administrator saying that even though it might look like poli-

Redwood High Offers Adults Business Study

Redwood High School will offer several business-oriented adult school courses this winter on Monday and Wednesday evenings.

The Monday courses, which will begin Jan. 9, will be investments, taught by stockbroker Peter Pike, and bookkeeping and typing, taught by Redwood instructor John Stark.

The Wednesday courses, which will begin Jan. 4, include business communications, taught by Sonoma State College professor Dale Wren; income tax reporting with certified public accountant and former Internal Revenue Service agent Charles Mayer, and shorthand with Charles Greenly, a teacher at Redwood.

The class hours will be 7 to 9 p.m. and they are open to anyone over 18. Registration forms, which may be obtained at the high school, must be received by Dec. 30, according to adult school dean Nicholas Gennaro.

Several Thousand Attend Viet Vigil

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Several thousand persons, holding lighted candles, stood a vigil in Union Square for more than an hour last night, urging that the Christmas ceasefire in Vietnam be made permanent.

The ceremony was sponsored by the Northern California Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

10 YEARS AGO

About 600 persons attended the Christmas music program by the San Rafael City Schools music department at San Rafael High School.

Here's a little guy who needs more than Santa.

His name is Richard Casey. And you can bet Christmas morning will be his big scene of the year. It's like that for little children. But what do you think will happen to Richard after Christmas? When the toy bills come in. When, perhaps, Mom goes back to work and real problems start. When Richard needs something more than home can give. You can give that something for less than you paid for the stamps on your Christmas cards. A contribution to the Boys Club of Southern Marin can provide the guidance that hundreds of boys like Richard want and, more importantly, need. To Back A Boy for one month costs only 12.50.

And when you think about it the next morning, you will get the best present you ever gave. Richard and his Boys Club need your help!

The Notre Dame All-American Had To Turn Away...

By RON BERGMAN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No block or tackle on the Kezar Stadium football field Dec. 31 can match the viciousness of the blows nature has inflicted on crippled children for whom the East-West game is played. The players and coaches saw this for themselves yesterday. They visited the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for which the game has raised more than $5 million in 41 years. After an apprehensive beginning that lasted only momentarily, everyone began to smile. "I see you have an Oregon State banner up there," Jim Wilkins, a 225-pound guard from OSU, said to 3-year-old Lester. "That's so Santa can come and see how nice it is," said Lester. Each player was assigned a child. It didn't take long to get warmly acquainted. Every player got a wallet with his patient's picture inside. The players gave presents, too. All America linebacker Jim Lynch of Notre Dame gave a balloon to smiling Bonnie, 9. She took it with her right hand which has only a thumb and forefinger. Lynch, who had to turn away for a few seconds, will have

Bonnie as his incentive a week from Saturday. Players in the San Francisco Shrine game not only give up their holidays but are unpaid. The East got the girl's wing and the West the boy's. But each squad visited both wings where banners with school colors and names flew from every bed. Some of the kids could get out of their beds with the aid of crutches or braces. Casts covered legs, arms or entire bodies. The teen age girls were entertained by quarterback Tim VanGelder of Iowa State, who took off his coat to demonstrate the latest dance steps, including the jerk and some of its more exotic variations. "It's all in your hips, girls," yelled VanGelder as he slapped his backside with both hands. With a transistor radio blaring rock-n-roll, Missouri halfback Charlie Brown exploded into a dance that ended with a leaping split that made his eyeglasses fly off. He caught them on the way up to rousing applause. Idaho fullback Ray McDonald gave brief piano recitals in both wings starting off with Jingle Bells. He played Silent Night for the boys and The Shadow of Your Smile for the girls. The older boys gave West

Head Coach John Ralston a cheer. Suzanne, 14, led a spell-out W-E-S-T T-E-A-M. The visit was over. The older boys able to get into the hall watched through a window as the players boarded a motorized cable car replica to go downtown. The East will practice at Santa Clara and the West at Palo Alto starting today.

Sir Richard Bass Is Toscanini In Cleats

Alright, music lovers, who were the four greatest conductors you ever saw or heard? Stokowski? Toscanini? Sir John Barbirolli? Sir Thomas Beecham? I'll take Sir Richard Bass. He may not know a windwood from a kettle drum, but when they hand him a football and a libretto of "X's" and "O's," he can make Leonard Bernstein look as if he is lousing up "Chop Sticks."

SIR RICHARD never runs a football. He DIRECTS a play. He should carry a baton and rap it smartly on a podium as he takes the handoff. First, he fakes in one direction. Then, he points out a block he wants made. He slides past that part and turns and nods to another block.

Each run is a downfield symphony in three or four movements. You half-expect him to get up and say, "No! No! No! dammit! I said 'Allergo!'" or to call for a dominant seventh, or to hiss "lightly" lightly.

A DICK BASS run frequently starts with the sighing of the strings, then a crash of symbols, a whisper of woodwinds, or then, full orchestration as he darts behind a crescendo block. It is a concerto for 18 hands or 90 fingers and two feet. He should show up for work in white tie and tails and have a fuzzy head of hair like a guy who has just touched a live wire or picked up an open telephone in a bathtub. Dick Bass and his All-Boy Orchestra playing the 1966 NFL Overture.

DICK, OF COURSE, is a fullback, and the massed brass of Beethoven is safe from him. He wouldn't know a minor chord from a minor coal. But, for getting the most out of his instruments (i.e., pulling guards, tight ends, crackback blockers) he would draw gasps of admiration from Toscanini.

A downfield run for Jim Brown or Jim Taylor is, or was, brute strength. Brown, for instance, left-hooked his way past tacklers. Taylor butts them like a billy-goat. A Gale Sayers or a Lenny Moore goes by them like a frightened deer.

ONLY BASS CONDUCTS a touchdown. I know why he was overlooked for All-Pro fullback. Dick Bass doesn't LOOK like an All-Pro fullback. All the blocking Jim Brown needed was his left arm. Taylor took his blocking to the barber shop twice a month.

BASS NEEDED a full orchestra. Bass is too small. His legs are too short. To straight-arm anybody, he'd need a stepladder. Guys cross the street faster under a go light than he runs. He gets his gains mostly by stealth and by combining the brass, woodwinds, tympany, percussion (and concussion) that is the Los Angeles Rams' offensive line. He orchestrates first downs. When he is caught behind the line of scrimmage, you may be sure somebody hit a sour note or lost his place in the sheet music. Only the choreography is Bass'.

IT IS MY notion that when a man fashions a brilliant career with only minimal help from The Creator, he occupies a special place in the annals of his trade or profession. After all, the sun doesn't deserve much credit for a gorgeous sunset. A lion doesn't deserve much praise for its bite. Elizabeth Taylor could be a movie actress with her mouth closed. In fact, it is better that way.

BUT DICK BASS became a fullback the same way Heifetz became a violinist or Horowitz a pianist. He worked at it long and hard. He learned when to play the black notes, how to finger, when to soft pedal. A fullback is a guy who is a wrestler in the off season. He tears phone books in two at a party. In other words, he is a rock, not a runt.

FOR DICK BASS to get a 1,000 yards is like the girl who plays mother getting an Academy Award, a write-in candidate winning an election, a Hollywood couple staying married, a mule winning the triple crown, a harmonica player leading the Vienna State Orchestra. It took perseverance, guts, brains. If he had Jim Brown's dimensions, he'd get 1,000 yards a carry, not just a season. If he is not on the All-Pro team at fullback, then the New York Philharmonic ought not to be directed by Leonard Bernstein, but by Leonard Jackie.

Tars Play At Home Tonight

The College of Marin Tars, hale and hearty, will try to make it two in a row tonight when they entertain Reedley College at the College of Marin Gymnasium in Kentfield at 8 o'clock.

The Tars own a 4-6 record. They'll trek to the star-studded Santa Monica Tournament next week, Wednesday through Friday.

Wrestling Clinic, Tourney Next Week

The San Rafael Recreation Department will present a Christmas vacation Wrestling Clinic and Tournament next Monday through Wednesday for grades six through nine.

The program will be taken up with reviewing skills, match pro and scoring procedures and additional skills.

The Tournament will start Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m.

Tam Five Lose 6th Straight

Tamalpais High's basketball team, its gymnasium being repaired, found that it needed some repairs on defense too as the Indians dropped their sixth straight contest to strong St. Mary's of Berkeley, 56-75.

The Indians stayed with St. Mary's in the first half, taking a 23-17 first-period lead and falling behind by only 40-41 at the half.

The second half was another story. "They stayed hot and we didn't," Tam coach Bernie Schneider said. The Indians mustered only 16 points while St. Mary's was bombing away for 34 to make up the final margin.

Steve Woodward and Floyd Jackson shared scoring honors for Tam with 18 points each. The Indians are now 1-6 for the season.

Because Tam Coach Bernie Schneider hadn't informed the Independent-Journal or changed the site on the schedule in the Tamalpais High School gym, a few students and fans showed up for the game in Mill Valley only to find construction work going on in the gym.

Alcindor's 'Poorest,' But Bruins Triumph

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's conceded that Lew Alcindor will score a bushel of points, so around the UCLA campus these days everybody scores Alcindor's defense.

The no. 1-ranked, unbeaten Bruins beat Colorado State, 84-74, last night as Alcindor scored 34 points — his average — but UCLA Coach John Wooden said: "It was probably Alcindor's poorest game so far this year."

And Alcindor, the 7-foot-1

sophomore center, concurred, saying: "I played very poorly, especially on defense. I just wasn't as alert as I should have been. I don't feel I'm progressing as fast as I would like to defensively."

Turning to his offense, Alcindor continued, "They collapsed quickly on me and gave me some trouble with their size and rebounding."

Colorado State Coach Jim Williams said, "Alcindor is a tremendous player, but he doesn't need to be protected as much as the officials protect him. If they protect him like this throughout his college career, it will take him about three years to adapt to pro ball."

Williams was unhappy because his Rams made 32 field goals to the Bruins' 27, but lost at the free throw line, 30-10. Officials called 26 personal fouls on the visitors and only 12 on UCLA.

Alcindor made 13 field goals and 8 of 13 foul shots for his 34 points, while Lucius Allen and Lynn Shackelford added 18 and 14, respectively.

Lloyd Kerr led the Rams with 18 points, Sonny Bustion contributed 17 and Bob Rule 12.

With the Rams slowing play, rebounding well and 6-foot-8 Rule doing a fair job of the impossible—defending against Alcindor—UCLA found itself tied 64-64 in the second half.

But Alcindor and Shackelford put together a run of eight straight points, and the Bruins were never in trouble again.

Tonight, UCLA, 4-0, plays Notre Dame at the Bruins' Pauley Pavilion. Colorado State, 4-2, plays at Loyola of Los Angeles.

Seals All Even After Road Trip

OAKLAND (UPI) —The California Seals return home tonight to face Seattle after a strange road trip that found them racking up a 2-3-3 record.

That gave the Seals an ultra-500 11-11-6 record for the season as they move into their holiday home stand. The road mark could just about as easily have been 8-0 or 0-8 as every road game was a squeaker.

Last night's battle was typical of the chillers the fourth place Seals have engaged in of late.

They trailed San Diego 2-1 when they pulled goalie Jack McCartan with one minute to go. Danny Belisle seemingly scored the tying goal with 31 seconds left but it was disallowed because one of the Seal performers replaced by a sub had not quite gone through the gate.

Wayne Maxner hit the goal that counted seconds later to throw the game into overtime and George Swarbrick hit his 11th tally of the season 56 seconds into that extra stanza on a pass from coach Charlie Burns to decide it.

Forbes Kennedy of the Seals and Fred Hiltz and John McMillan of the Gulls also scored before 7,748 fans.

Although the fourth-place Seals are two points back of Los Angeles, their record has to rate above the Blades' 14-15-2 mark since Los Angeles has two more points for three more games.

BARRY PLAYS BUT...

Warriors Beaten By Philadelphia

Nate Thurmond, Wilt Chamberlain's understudy when both played for San Francisco, hounded Philadelphia's super star tenaciously but in vain last night. Thurmond may have won the personal contest, but the 76ers won the game.

In the only National Basketball Assn. action, the Philadelphia 76ers outlasted a dogged Warrior squad and won, 116-114, although Thurmond held Chamberlain to 14 points and outscored the Big Dipper at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium.

Philadelphia goes to Los Angeles tonight. St. Louis is at Boston and Detroit at Chicago in other NBA games.

Thurmond played for years in the shadow of Chamberlain's super image. When the Big Dipper was traded by the Warriors to Philadelphia, Thurmond took over as San Francisco's regular center.

Against Chamberlain, the Warrior center allowed only one field goal in six attempts in the first half. In the final quarter, however, Wilt made five of six attempts from the field and ended with 14 points.

Chamberlain had 22 rebounds and eight assists. Thurmond scored nine points, gathered in 25 rebounds and assisted on three goals.

The Warriors started without their leading scorer, Rick Barry, who had a sprained ankle. But with the Warriors down by as much as 19 points, 43-24, in the second period, San Francisco sent Barry in with a tightly taped ankle.

He sparked a Warrior surge that brought them to a 53-53 tie 24 seconds before the halftime gun. Barry and Jeff Mullins hit consistently from the outside to close the gap.

Mullins made a clean steal of the ball with 47 seconds remaining in the game and put the Warriors to within two points at 115-113 with a layup. Bill Cunningham then hit a foul shot for the 76ers and Mullins dropped in a one-pointer.

Hal Greer then threw the ball away and the Warriors brought it in, passing to Barry who muffed the throw. Thurmond recovered and took a desperation hook shot, but it fell short.

Chuck Walker with 24 points and Greer with 22 led the 76ers. Barry hit 30 points to lead all scorers.

Wilt, Big O Head East All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain and Oscar Robertson lead a list of eight players selected today to play for the Eastern Division in the 17th annual National Basketball Association All-Star game in San Francisco's Cow Palace Jan. 10.

Chamberlain, of Philadelphia, was the unanimous choice at center of the 85 writers and broadcasters who voted for the team. Robertson, of Cincinnati, received 84 votes at guard.

Others named were Willis Reed of New York, Bailey Howell of Boston and Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, forward; Bill Russell, center, and Hal Greer of Philadelphia and John Havlicek of Boston, guards.

Coaches of the Eastern Division teams will select two more players next week. One will have to be from Baltimore since the Bullets didn't place anyone among the eight chosen by the writers.

League rules call for at least one player from each team in the division to be on the All-Star team.

Red Auerbach, former coach of the Boston Celtics, will coach the East team. The Western Division team will be announced Sunday.

Pro Scouts At East-West Camps This Time; Competition's Over

There will be few ground rules for pro football scouts this year at the Santa Clara and Stanford training camps of the East-West football teams.

"We have kept the rules to a minimum and have the assurance of both National and American Football Leagues they will be strictly observed," said Francis J. Powers, director of public relations for the Shrine charity classic.

"Actually, there is only one important ground rule—scouts will not be allowed into training quarters. But all workouts will be open unless the coaches call a secret session."

THERE'S NO REASON this year for rival NFL and AFL scouts to jockey for unfair advantages because they now are in one big happy family of 26 clubs that will conduct a common draft next month. But it wasn't always that way with the pros who used to be banned from the East-West camps because of the competitive chaos they caused.

Lamar Hunt almost got the bum's rush from the West camp several years ago. The multimillionaire owner of the Kansas City Chiefs had a club named the Dallas Texans in 1960. Hunt slipped unobtrusively by the West's gate guardian who had not the vaguest idea that the man of slight build he was admitting was No. 1 man in the then new American Football League.

HUNT HAD HOPED to get an advance word with Bob Lilly, a 250 pound Texas Tech center, drafted by both Hunt's Texans and the rival NFL Dallas Cowboys. Somebody tipped Babe Hol-lingbery, business manager of the West team, that Hunt was in the stands. Hollingbery had no qualms about escorting a millionaire off the premises. But Babe didn't know Hunt by sight any better than the gateman.

HOWEVER, THAT didn't stop Babe. He strode to the temporary bleacher section where spectators were sitting and announced that pro football scouts were not welcome. Nobody made a move to leave. Hollingbery walked away. When someone pointed out Hunt to him he started back.

Bill Barnes, coach of the 1960 West team, avoided an embarrassing incident by diplomatically interceding in Hunt's behalf just as the millionaire was about to get the bum's rush. Barnes told Hollingbery practice was just about over and no harm had been done.

"IF THAT'S THE way you want it coach, that's the way it will be—no ruckus," said Hollingbery.

Lilly, incidentally, ultimately signed with the Dallas Cowboys who converted the big fellow into a defensive tackle. Without Lilly the Cowboys never would have made it to the NFL Eastern Division title this year.

Athletes Hit By Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon is taking action to curb the alleged favoritism that gives draft-eligible professional athletes first crack at joining Army Reserve or National Guard units.

Starting Feb. 1, all guard and reserve vacancies will be filled on a first-come-first-served basis, according to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

The defense chief did not acknowledge complaints of favoritism—first made by Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, D-Mich.—nor did he say that athletes were being shown favoritism.

But he did say that allegations of favoritism were being investigated and he conceded that, because there are more applicants than vacancies, units have been able to be highly selective in choosing volunteers.

"As a consequence," McNamara said, "procedures being followed in reserve enlistment programs may have resulted in showing preference to those individuals who have the highest mental and physical qualifications, thus bypassing other, earlier applicants who meet acceptable standards."

McNamara made the statement in a letter yesterday to Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, who had asked him to look into the situation.

Nedzi recently urged the armed services committee and the Pentagon to look into charges that professional football players and other pro athletes have been given priority for reserve enlistments because of their prestige or the influence of their clubs.

Both the Army Reserve and the National Guard generally require only six months of active duty instead of the two years served by draftees. The reservist's obligation is for 6 years, including about 5-12 years of weekly drills in civilian life.

Ram Quarterback Plays Auto Tag

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles Rams' quarterback Roman Gabriel has been booked on suspicion of drunken driving after an alleged two-mile chase on the Golden State Freeway, police said.

Gabriel, of Granada Hills, a 26-year-old five-year National Football League veteran, was booked last night, officers said, after a 90-mile per hour chase.

An officer said Gabriel's car and a vehicle driven by Bertland Scher, 29, a salesman also from Granada Hills, were playing tag. Scher was also booked on suspicion of drunken driving, police said.

Each posted $295 bail and was released.

Cowboy-Injun Duel In Sun; Blues Favored Over Grays

It's Wyoming Vs. Florida St. In Sol Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The Florida State and Wyoming Sun Bowl football teams won't spend Christmas eve envisioning sugar plums if their coaches have any say.

Florida State Coach Bill Peterson envisions good team attitude and the Seminoles' scoring potency. Wyoming Coach Lloyd Eaton savors fourth-quarter offensive lightning and a staunch defense.

The two coaches were to send their teams through light practice sessions today for the nationally televised 32nd annual Sun Bowl classic Saturday starting at 1 p.m., PST (NBC-TV).

"It's going to take everybody on the field to play those tomahawks," Peterson said, speaking figuratively of the Cowboy and Indian battle.

"I don't want to see you give 100 per cent," he said during a practice field pep talk yesterday. "Not 105 per cent. But 110 per cent from every one of you."

Eaton said Wyoming will concentrate on stopping FSU's passing attack.

PASSING ATTACK "Their passing attack will keep us honest," he said. "If we're not up, we'll get defeated."

Wyoming chalked up a 9-1 season record, mostly on a rugged defense which allowed only 69 points.

Of the 327 points scored by the Cowboy offense, 116 of them came in the fourth quarter.

Florida State, 6-4, gave up 187 points, scoring 254 points. Quarterback Gary Pajcic fired eight touchdown passes, completed 125 of 233 pass attempts and had 1,590 yards through the air. Fullback Jim Mankins and Bill Moreman add rushing power.

Wyoming quarterback Rick Egloff passed for 1,190 yards and 13 touchdowns. Jim Klieck, Dave Hampton and Egloff combined for another 1,230 yards rushing.

Candy Beeler, Roberta and Terry Shistar and Liz Locati swam the 400-meter medley relay short course in 5:25.7, fourth best time in the nation in the Girls 15-17 age group. Their event was inadvertently left off the list in a story in Tuesday's Independent-Journal.

49ers Sign Talent Scout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Michelosen, who has put in 30 years in football, both as player and coach, has joined the talent-hunting staff of the San Francisco 49ers.

Lou Spadia, general manager of the National Football League club, said Michelosen has been signed as a fulltime member of the department of player personnel.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS I-J Fish and Game Writer

Most Rivers Are Fishable For Steelhead Fans This Week

So we have had dry weather for several days; so most local fishermen would like a rundown on what has happened, and what may happen over the weekend steelheadwise.

First off: Most of the rivers are in fishable condition. Except for an occasional salmon that was a late arrival, salmon fishing is about done for. The steelhead season in the coast streams should come into its own.

The news from the "loop area" is a bit disappointing. The Fort Bragg streams, Noya, Big Ten Mile, apparently are not very promising, according to the few reports at hand. I make that remark because I know of several steelheaders who reside in Fort Bragg but came to the Navarro and the Garcia to catch fish.

A FEW STEELIES have been taken from the Navarro the past 48 hours and, if no more heavy rains, should be prime for the weekend.

Talking to dedicated steelheaders Claire and Ernie Titus of Point Arena, I learned that both of them landed two steelhead while fishing the Garcia (above the bridge), but Claire knew of no others being caught this week so far. "The river is in really good condition," Claire reported, "but for some reason very few fish have been taken." The Garcia is another stream where prospects look good for a holiday haul.

NO REPORT from the Gualala, but there very definitely should be some action on any tide if the weather stays clear.

Grant King of the King News and Bait Shop in Guerneville reported the Russian still a bit murky (probably due to construction work in the area) but while no limits were taken, enough steelhead were landed to indicate the usual annual runs which historically take place from the 15th of December to the 15th of January, have come in.

KING REPORTED at least five steelies were taken at the mouth of Austin Creek. Two steelhead addicts, Gene Baldini and Al Panelli, did themselves good near Jap Island; Tom Dennison took two fish from Freeze-out and Merle Sturgeon, another old-timer, took one nice one on a Spin Glow lure.

According to King, most of the fish caught up until dark Wednesday were hooked on artificials — Flat Fish, Cherry Bobber and the Spin Glow.

IF WE HAVE no rains over the weekend, chances are very good for berry and other bait such as crawdads and night-crawlers.

IT APPEARS that the Sacramento River salmon slump continues. An occasional steelhead has been taken but the general outlook is glum for both salmon and steelhead — hardly even fair. The consensus of resort owners and reporters in that the mighty Sacramento will have to take off weight and return to normal for the overdue period for salmon fishing from, say — Meridian to Redding. Let's hope for sunshine for the holiday weekend and the last days of the year.

1966—The Ultimate In Party-Giving

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — There are styles in party giving just as there are styles in clothes.

During the Kennedy administration the party style across the nation was elegance and culture. When the Texas Johnsons moved in the trend became informal, with mixer games and ranch style barbecues.

But this year hosts have wearied of following the White House themes. These aren't "most" enough.

This is the year of the most. The ultimate. The superlative in entertainment.

Memorable celebrations this year had the longest, the loudest, the most daring, the most colorful, the most exclusive, the most expensive, or the most unusual environment.

Consider the superlatives in that order

LONGEST . . . Four days of partying was the idea of Joe Tankos, wealthy hotel man, who persuaded a planeload of sun followers to leave New York for 96 hours and a daisy chain of parties in Palm Beach.

But Betty Margolis of Portland, Me., topped that one this spring by getting Philharmonic-minded citizens to collaborate in a nine-day eat-and-dance marathon.

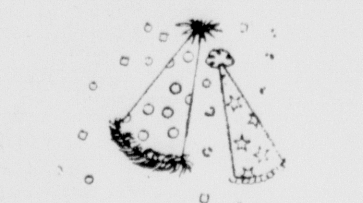

LOUDEST . . . Anyone who was not totally deaf by the end of a 1966 party season was cheating. If hostesses did not assault the ears with at least two audio-echoing rock 'n' roll groups on their own premises, they hired a hall, noise and all.

In New York the really chic thing to do was to invite too many guests to jostle each other in a noisy local discotheque. Hosts tied up Sybil Burton's Arthur, or one of the Greenwich Village spots. Countess Paolozzi and her husband Dr. Howard Bellin jammed 400 friends into the smoky din of Guys and Dolls for a shindig in honor of "my cousin, the Archduke of Austria."

The "In" noise place this year was the Cheeta, opened by Olivier Coquelin, who is Disco Daddy, and his partner Borden Stevenson, the late Adlai's third son. The super discotheque holds 2000, too large for an intimate private gathering. However, the Cercle D'Or, a for-fun-only jet set club, staged a masked Rio Carnival which colorfully clogged the place.

THE MOST DARING . . . Maybe the word should be audacious. At any rate, the New York Shakespeare Festival committee had a fabulous ball from the male viewpoint. The ladies donned transparent dresses with bands of chinchilla or bits of glitter happily located in the strategic places.

In Hartford, Conn., paper was the thing. Although most ladies dressed themselves up in $5 paper gowns, others had famous artists paint their sacks. This immediately made them masterpieces, worth thousands, which were contributed to the Wadsworth Atheneum museum.

Very often the audacity is not in the costumes but in the guests. Underground guests such as Andy Warhol, Edie Sedgwick, or Nikki, along with a variety of East Village LSD cultists, bearded sculptors and barefoot folk singers were welcomed eagerly everywhere. The need for guests that other guests can meet with gaping mouths brought about a Dial-a-Party-Guest service run by Don Sparks.

MOST COLORFUL . . . Sometimes this effect was carried out by color. Generally costume shops have previously derived their income from the Halloween season and amateur theatrical groups found a new source of year-round revenue, thanks to a revival of costume balls. The most famous host of the year, Truman Capote, insisted on masks for all and black and or white gowns for the ladies.

But psychedelic color was the really new thing at parties for the with-it. Along with blaring musicians the hostess hired several cameramen, trained at the art of flashing throbbing, ever-changing color patterns, sometimes one over another. This created a maddening ocular assault that would have been envied by Spanish inquisitors.

THE MOST EXCLUSIVE— The number of people not invited to a party enhanced its prestige. That Capote cold-bloodedly limited his guest list to a mere 520 friends whetted a desire to attend in the hearts of still thousands more.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy's guest list is also coveted, and never abused. Not everybody can belong to this inner-circle. Therefore, any party of hers was automatically regarded as tops.

THE MOST EXPENSIVE— Charity balls are more of the same unless you bring horses into the lobby as Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt once did a few years ago in Miami, or as was done recently at the International Ball in Washington. You've got to have a gimmick, like entering through a window instead of the door, as the members of the Chicago Boys Club did this year at their money-raising event.

High cost is an interesting, memorable gimmick. The annual April in Paris Ball responded well by raising its price from $300 to $350 for each pair of ducats.

On a private basis perhaps the annual prize for costly parties goes to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stewart Leas, Jr. at Westerly, a 35-acre estate on Ox Pasture Rd., L. I. New York.

Mrs. Leas is the former Fernanda Wanamaker of Philadelphia. In 1963 some of the young guests at her daughter Fernanda Wetherill's debut were accused of causing an estimated damage of $6000 to an ocean front mansion rented for the occasion. Her mother subsequently canceled a formal debut party for Philadelphia society and gave twice what she intended to spend, $100,000 to the Germantown Academy, a boys school in Philadelphia.

CARNIVAL NOT IN RIO—The scene is the Cheeta, a super-discotheque where the Cercle D'Or, an exclusive jet set party giving group, tossed its annual Carnival in Rio. The year before they flew to Rio for their party.

PARTY OF THE DECADE—Author Truman Capote escorts guests of honor Kay Graham, publisher of the Washington Post, into the Plaza Hotel where the author gathered together 520 of the most celebrated guests in the world. At right are Mrs. Alfred Levitt and actor Tom Poston at costly April in Paris Ball, more costly for Mrs. Levitt because she lost an alligator bag full of gems worth thousands.

Holidays Celebrated In Special Ways

By MOLLY MARIN

The William Bakers — she is choral director Winifred Baker — have invited some 200 friends to attend a boxing day party at their home in San Rafael on the day after Christmas. Mrs. Baker, who is a native of Kent, England, says boxing day is a holiday for all in England, but it is mainly the day on which gift boxes are given to other than family and close friends. Originally this meant all servants, but now it is largely for service people such as the postman. It is also the day on which boxes of goodies are given to the poor, she says.

THE LEONARD BLAKELYS of Sausalito will have their traditional large gathering of relatives for dinner and opening of presents on Christmas Eve. Among those present will be the James Bettises of Mill Valley, James Bettise Jr. of Sausalito, Hal Bradens of Petaluma and Robert Joys of San Rafael. Also invited to drop in for cocktails preceding dinner are six other couples.

IN MILL VALLEY the Ralph H. Livingstons entertained at their home Sunday at a cocktail party and buffet for some 50 guests who are

A special guest, too, was French painter Guy Buffet, who is visiting the Bay Area from Paris and brought a large impressionist oil painting of the southern coast of France to surprise the hosts. Among the guests were a local artist, Diane Aubineau, and Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Bogardus, Erwin Holton, John Montgomery, Herbert Briggan, Michael Escalle and Richard Melbostad.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS is Jim Jett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Jett of Mill Valley. He is in his senior year as a music theory major at Brigham Young University in Utah and will leave in January to continue his music studies in Salzburg, Austria.

THEIR ANNUAL CHRISTMAS open house for friends was held by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Keil Wednesday evening at their home at Keil Cove, Tiburon.

Ames-Cahill Engagement Is Told At Birthday Fete

A large formal dinner party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bowles Cahill of Greenbrae, ostensibly in celebration of the 21st birthday of the host's daughter, Carolyn Boyd Cahill, provided the occasion for the announcement of Cappy's engagement to Philip Daniel Ames.

Cappy is the granddaughter of Mrs. Arthur Cahill of San Francisco and the late Mr. Cahill, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. William James Boyd of San Francisco and Kentfield. She is the sister of Boyd, Sandra and Deborah Cahill.

Philip is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Ames of Hillsborough. His sister is Mrs. Lawrence Fordyce of San Jose.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Hubby's Idea Of A Big Evening—Dish Of Popcorn And Television

DEAR HELEN:

You've probably heard the story about the man who called his wife up from the office and said, "Honey, how would you like to go dinner-dancing to-night?" Answered the wife, "I'd love it . . . But who am I talking to?" That's me!

If my husband ever asked me to go out anywhere—even to a drive-in—I'd thing it was the millennium. His idea of a big evening is a dish of popcorn and watch TV. If I want to see a movie, he says just wait a while, it will be on the Late Show. Dancing? Forget it. He's always too tired . . . for everything.

If I go to visit my parents once a month, I'm gallivanting.

He likes to eat as well as the rest, but not "out." How can I break out of the rut of—DISHES, DUSTING AND DOPEY TV?

DEAR D. D. and D.:

Perhaps your husband needs a physical check-up. It isn't always just habit that makes a man "too tired." Make an appointment with the doctor and make him keep it!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a 38-year-old son who is married with five children. He was raised by his father and stepmother, but I really love him. For the past five years now I send him a birthday gift but he doesn't acknowledge it.

Also for Christmas I send money for the children, plus a nice gift every other year for my daughter-in-law and son.

He visits his stepmother many times during the year but never comes to see me. Hinting does no good. His wife used to acknowledge the gifts, but no more. I'm 58 and the hurt gets deeper each year. Please advise.—HURT

DEAR HURT:

I could jump to conclusions here but it wouldn't be fair. However, I'm afraid your son already has: He has evidently chosen his "mother," you aren't the one, and at this late date gifts won't change his mind. I'm sorry I can't offer you more hope, but I will suggest one more letter before you give up hoping. May you have an answer by New Year's.—H.

SUBURBAN SCENE—

NEWCOMERS TO Belvedere Mrs. Guy Fairbanks and her daughters Diana and Beth were honored at a small holiday tea by Mrs. John R. Moore at her Belvedere home yesterday. Assisting were Mrs. Moors' daughters, Kathleen, Nancy and Robin. Diana Fairbanks is home for the holidays from Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass. The Fairbanks family formerly lived in New England.

CHRISTMAS WILL be more meaningful for Mrs. and Mrs. Clyde A. Wrightsman and their children, Karra and Kerry, because holiday guests in their Bel-Marine Keys home will be his parents, the W. C. Wrightsmans of Santa Rosa, and Mrs. Wrightsman's mother, Mrs. C. R. Kranz of Sebastopol.

HAWAII IS POPULAR with Marinites this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Scott of Belvedere are vacationing in the islands . . . The Everett Witzels of Belvedere have just returned from a two week stay in the Islands.

MR. AND MRS. COLIN KOSACK will share Christmas feasting in their Bel-Marine Keys home with Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Lambrook and their son, Dennis, of Burlingame, and the Arnold Lambrooks and their three children. The Kosacks with their children, Rexford and Joan, will take their annual snow fun trek to Yosemite with five other couples and their youngsters sometime early in February.

Now It's Jubbah

Add off-beat names for spring's fashion silhouettes—the jubbah. Harvey Berlin, New York manufacturer, shows the jubbah in both short and ankle length versions, copying the Eastern native dress with side slits and a second layer of fabric beneath.

DEAR HELEN:

Is there no such thing as an honest repairman? I bought a new portable typewriter and wanted a little standard attached to my desk so it would fit into place and not "walk" as I typed. I figured it would cost about $10 or $15, as it was a simple job. But the man came back twice—once to "measure," once to install. He drank coffee with me, talked politics, worked about half an hour at the most—and sent a bill for $60! My typewriter only cost $79.

Talking to others, here are a few case histories I have heard: A woman sent her 17-year-old son in to get the front wheels aligned on the family car. Servicemen pointed out all the "wear" and "dangerous points" on the year-old car—and estimated replacements would come to a "mere $80." The boy brought the car home unrepaid, she took it to another garage and learned there was nothing wrong except a few nuts that needed tightening.

Television: Whoever gets away with less than a $35 to $75 bill these days? Who knows how many good tubes they replace? I don't even trust the outfits I always do business with—they're the ones who can get by with gouging because you don't expect it. What can we do?—M. T. P.

DEAR M:

If you feel you are grossly overcharged, you can take your case to small claims court. If you suspect cheating, contact your Consumer Counsel or the Better Business Bureau. Most repairmen are honest. Those who aren't can be put out of business by an alert public.—H.

Junior Social Service Elects Mother Of Three As President

Blonde and personable Mrs. Louis G. Baldacci of Novato has been elected as chairman of the North Marin Chapter of the Catholic Junior Social Service.

A member for three years, Linda Baldacci has served as secretary and vice chairman of the organization. Membership is open to any Catholic or non-Catholic woman willing to work for the various projects necessary to financially support the three social service agencies in Marin City, San Rafael and Novato.

The services of the Social Service Agency in Novato are not restricted to Catholics. Mrs. Baldacci said. The main purpose of the agency is to help people with their problems. Included are marriage counseling, children's problems and family-type problems, treating the whole family as a unit rather than singling out any one member.

The North Marin Chapter will hold a rummage sale in the spring and work with other chapters to furnish the Novato office of the Social Service Agency.

Mrs. Baldacci is also active in the Mother's Milk Bank,

MRS. BALDACCI

American Assn. of University Women, Ladies' Aid to Retarded Children and she is a teacher's aide at Our Lady of Loretto School.

Linda and her husband, assistant director of the California Society of Certified Public Accountants in San Francisco, are the parents of Catherine, 9,

Among her hobbies she says are "playing the guitar, oil painting, an occasional golf game, bridge, reading (when I have time), swimming and picnics." Her husband also plays the guitar and daughter Cathie plays the ukelele, so there are sessions of folksinging in the Baldacci home.

"I'm happiest when helping, whether it is my family or my volunteer work. I would like to see a volunteer service office open here in Novato some day," she said.

Serving with Mrs. Baldacci are Mesdames William Murray, co-chairman; Robert Reh, secretary; Robert DiGrazia, treasurer; Jerry Smith and James Simon, publicity; Donald Curran, membership; Paul Miller, silver fantasy; Charles Shuttleworth, St. Vincent's, and Gary Kilkenny, United Crusade.

'Alfie' Blends Comedy With A Jolt

By LES DARD

Here's what's in the stocking this festive weekend for Marin area moviegoers:

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Alfie" is here, with Michael Caine in the title role. It's predominantly a wild comedy, but with a vividly realistic climax. Caine as Alfie is a cheery and irresponsible Cockney rogue who seems irresistible to the many "birds" (girls) he so ardently pursues. He has his own code: he warns all his girls (there are five or six as the show progresses) that he has absolutely no honorable intentions, and then proceeds to prove it to them.

The girls along the way are Shelley Winters, the least vulnerable; Julie Foster, the stubborn, simple one; the wise and mature Vivian Merchant; moping, trusting Jane Asher and Shirley Anne Field, the impudent nurse.

Caine, though, is the one to watch. Handsome but not pretty, he maintains his classy Cockney cloak with amusing insolence and occasionally ties the viewer in knots with his slang.

SEQUOIA AND LARK THEATERS

Continuing at the Sequoia theater is the science-fiction bill "Fantastic Voyage." Also opening on Christmas is the Lark Theater with the still scintillating re-issue of "Gigi."

NORTHGATE THEATER

A view of World War I through German eyes is here. "The Blue Max" stars George Peppard, James Mason, Ursula Andress and Jeremy Kemp.

Peppard plays a young German pilot assigned to an elite unit of the German Air Force. In these early days of flying, aerial combat could be likened to the almost stately battles of plumed, chivalric knights. The title refers to a blue enamel cross that is the airman's highest award—received when he has shot down 20 planes.

What captures the viewer's attention is the superb in-flight photography. Flimsy planes flying over lush and sunny farm lands, or realistic dogfights in the endless blue sky all add to the shows fine total effect.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

If you have ever liked a Western, or have ever thought you might if one was done really properly, see "The Professionals."

Viet Christmas Services To Be Beamed To U.S.

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—The U.S. Armed Forces Radio Service in South Vietnam will broadcast live to the United States the Christmas religious services by Francis Cardinal Spellman and Evangelist Billy Graham.

The main programs will be Cardinal Spellman's Christmas Mass at midnight Saturday, Vietnam time — 11 a.m., EST Saturday; and Graham's Christmas service at 3 p.m. Sunday — 2 a.m. EST Sunday.

For security reasons, the locations from which these programs will originate are not being published in advance.

An official said the broadcast would be beamed to Armed Forces Radio Service headquarters in Washington, where they may be picked up by the American networks or stations.

He said the Christmas broadcasts mark the inauguration of this type of live broadcast from Vietnam. The first such live program was a Graham meeting earlier this week. Previously, such programs were sent back by recorded tapes.

Hearing Draws No Protest—No Audience

There was no protest from the audience, in fact there was no audience last night when the Terra Linda Community Services District board held a hearing on annexation of 56-acres of Terra Linda Terrace.

The board adopted a resolution for annexation, to be sent to the California Secretary of State. When these are filed, the annexation will be accomplished.

The land, on the south side of the district boundaries, is soon to be subdivided. Its addition will make community services district boundaries coincide with those of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District.

When the Civil War broke out, the Coast and Geodetic Survey was the only technical agency outside the armed forces with an organized and effective field mapping force and map-making plant. The office printed most of the maps used by the Union forces.

Electrical Strike Causing Delays On Transit System

SAN FRANCISCO. (UPI)—Bay Area Rapid Transit directors indicated yesterday that construction of the transbay tube may encounter an unexpected delay because of the electricians' strike at Bethlehem Steel's shipyard here.

Bethlehem is a subcontractor for the project being built for BART by Transbay Constructors.

The directors said at their meeting that delays already had been felt in the two-months long strike. Two of the 57 tubes to constitute the tube have come off the ways.

But further construction, which also includes sections of an 11-story ventilation structure, are held up.

In Championship Action

When Mrs. Hermine Baron, of Los Angeles, played against Mrs. Dorothy Hayden, of New York, in the Team Selection Tournament last month in Pittsburgh, it was a case of Greek meeting Greek.

As the only women in the tournament, each wanted to outdo the other. As usual, some man had to suffer.

BATTLE ROYAL

B. Jay Becker, Mrs. Hayden's partner, got himself in the middle of the battle when he played today's hand at four spades.

He won the heart opening lead in his hand and tried a club finesse at once.

East won with the king of clubs and returned a club for his partner to ruff.

Mrs. Baron ruffed wickedly with the jack of spades and returned a heart to dummy's ace.

BAD START

The hand had begun badly, but Becker could still salvage his game if he worked out Mrs. Baron's trump holding. He would make his contract by leading a trump if he knew that Mrs. Baron had the ace-10 of trumps left.

But if the jack of trumps had been used truthfully, it meant that Mrs. Baron had either no trumps left or only the ace of trumps.

RELIES ON OPPONENT

Relying on Mrs. Baron's truthfulness, Becker led a high club from dummy. Alas, women were deceivers ever.

Mrs. Baron produced the 10 of spades to win the trick and eventually took the setting trick with the ace of trumps.

If you can stop snickering long enough to notice, the hand has two instructive points. First, a simple falsecard (ruffing with the jack instead of the 10) can be very effective even against a great star.

Second, believe it or not, men sometimes have trouble understanding what women are doing at the bridge table.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Microscopes And Penicillin Outwit Bacterial Infections

Microscopic adversaries that caused infections were our number one killers for many centuries. We were completely oblivious to the enemy until the microscope was invented. Through magnification the critters that caused disease became visible. Epidemics were feared more than guns and swords and, until this century, pestilence decided most wars.

VAN DELLEN

THE TIDE of battle turned when antiseptics and vaccines were found and a definite change occurred with the discovery of the sulfonamides and antibiotics. Penicillin was comparable to the atomic bomb and within a few years bacterial infections were no longer a threat and have been bypassed by heart disease, cancer, and accidents as our top killers.

Our microscopic and ultra-microscopic foes are clever and tough. Infectious diseases caused by bacteria are returning and many physicians are beginning to wonder whether germs are winning the war against people.

We have known for some time that bacteria are able to develop an immunity to antibiotic drugs. This is bad enough but the culprits also have the cunning ability to transfer this resistance to their offspring.

THE SITUATION has been observed in many countries and the percentage of resistant strains is rising year by year. There are many commercial antibiotics and some degree of resistance to certain bacteria has been noted in the majority.

These compounds do not necessarily have to be used because when some germs develop resistance to one antibiotic they also are resistant to the newcomers on the market. The problem is more serious in treating certain diseases with antibiotics but in general it has not been so serious that infections are becoming major killers.

In 1962, one scientist found that 4 per cent of the Germ E. coli were resistant to ampicillin. In 1965 the percentage increased to 13 per cent. There is no need to panic because the wonder drugs are truly wonderful but they should be used properly or not at all.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

INFECTION OR INFLAMMATION

A. M. writes: Does the term inflammatory mean an infection? I have chronic inflammation behind the eardrum. Five weeks ago my dentist extracted two teeth which he thought were responsible. Now he said I have a gum and throat infection. Is he right?

REPLY

Infection is only one cause of inflammation. Others include allergy, irritation, and burns. Focal infections of the teeth rarely are a cause of inflammation, especially of a rash behind the ear.

PLEURISY RECURRENCES

R. A. writes: Does pleurisy usually return again and again after the first attack?

REPLY

Complete healing occurs as a rule after the first attack. Now and then pleurisy settles in one area and has a tendency to return with each cold or period of overfatigue.

TOXEMIA AND UREMIA

E. V. writes: Are toxemia and uremia the same?

REPLY

No. Uremia stems from failure of the kidneys to function properly. Toxemia comes from the accumulation of poisonous (toxic) substances in the system as a result of the uremia.

DROOLING

E. T. writes: Why do old people drool?

REPLY

Dentures or sagging corners of the mouth.

Wingless Craft Test A Success

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Looking like a silver slipper, the sleek wingless craft dropped from a B52 at 45,000 feet and glided to a safe landing.

"It's like landing an airplane in a 30-degree dive," said pilot Bruce Peterson, 33, after his three-minute flight yesterday in the HL10. "I came in at very high speeds, perhaps 250 to 280 knots."

The HL10 is one of three wingless craft being tested to develop a vehicle that can re-enter the atmosphere for a pilot-controlled landing.

Northrop Corp. Norair Division built the HL10 and its cousin, the M2F2, which has made several successful flights. The HL10 has a flat bottom, the M2F2 a rounded one.

Young Driver Learn Lesson

A Kentfield girl who has been driving only three months learned about skids the hard way today.

Claudia Marie Schimmer, 15, of 116 Terrace Avenue, was driving north on Highway 101 near the Lucky Drive off-ramp in Corte Madera when the car swerved and overturned at 12:10 a. m., California Highway Patrol reported.

The driver was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on her face. A passenger, S. A. Murphy, was not injured.

In Fair Condition

John J. Kaufmann, 86, of 1130 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, retired physical education instructor and hydrotherapist, remained in fair condition today in Marin General Hospital, where he was taken Wednesday night by fireman who answered a resuscitation call at home.

For Marin, the world's fastest reporting

We tied up the globe in the I-J's new electronic tape to show there's something new in the world of news reporting in your daily I-J.

For that tape "speaks" a new electronic language which we take directly from the Associated Press sports wire, rather than news in the form of teletyped copy.

We feed this tape into a battery of new Elektron linotypes which "read" the little perforations and change impulses into words, set in metal. All at speeds Buck Rogers never dreamed of.

Result: MORE NEWS in less time and LATER NEWS . . . giving you a sports section with more depth and complete world coverage.

These electronic speed demons also enable us to bring you the closing prices of our New York Stock List TODAY, instead of tomorrow. And to print the entire weekly range of ALL New York stocks in our Saturday edition.

Just another way of advancing the I-J to further your reading enjoyment.
